Soviet Action Angers Berlin

Invasion of Rumania Is Called Trap

BULLETIN
Bucharest, Rumania.—(P)—The inspired Rumanian press tonight front-paged a dispatch datelined Budapest which said:

"Diplomatic circles here in Budapest say the Moscow government has sent a note to the Hungarian government demanding a protectorate over the Ukrainian elements of Rumania (formerly eastern Czechoslovakia)."

Bucharest.—(P)—Soviet Russia's swift, bloodless acquisition of a huge expanse of Rumanian territory was labeled by German legation officials today as a British trick to make Germany fight in a new warfront in the Balkans.

But, they declared, Germany is carefully staying out of any such trap.

They declared frankly that German diplomats had advised Carol to meet Moscow's demands but had told him that relinquishing of the territory was only a temporary adjustment, and that Germany "definitely will settle things later."

There was every indication that the Soviet ultimatum and advance into Bessarabia and Bucovina took the Germans completely by surprise.

Wealthy German landowners and German experts employed in the territory now being occupied by the red army fled to Bucharest late last night and early today like ordinary refugees, without any warning.

Angry at Russia

The legation quarters declared bitterly that Russia had moved, aided and abetted by Britain, to take advantage of German preoccupation in the west with the war with Britain.

These Germans alleged that the British ambassador to Moscow, Sir Stafford Cripps, had "pushed" Stalin into Rumania in an attempt to create a new embarrassment for Germany and to cause the reich to turn her attention away from the west.

They asserted that Germany would not be fooled by this "maneuver" at this time.

They declared openly that the reich cannot permanently permit the Soviets to dominate the mouth of the Danube and northern Bucovina because of the potential long-range military danger and the possibility open to Russia to block Germany's approaches to the Black sea.

Leaves For Vienna

The German minister to Rumania, Johann Fabricius, left suddenly for Vienna this morning by special airplane.

The trip was reported being made in connection with Carol's appeal to Hitler for help in the crisis with Russia.

It was not clear, however, whether the appeal of the harassed Rumanian king to Hitler was a request for direct aid against Russian encroachments or any entreaty that the fuhrer use his influence to temper the Russian demands.

(Both Bulgaria and Hungary, claimants to territory now Rumanian, started calling reservists to the colors. A high source in Budapest said a large scale Hungarian call-up was in connection with the Rumanian situation. Bulgarian regulars were shifted from the Turkish to the Rumanian frontier.)

May Evacuate Some British Districts

London.—(P)—The ministry of health today announced that the "possibility of evacuation for military reasons of the bulk of the civilian population of certain districts" of the British Isles is being considered.

The statement envisaging compulsory removal of civilians from areas threatened with invasion was made in a circular to authorities in London, Portsmouth and towns along the southern bank of the Thames estuary.

Roosevelt to Request Added Fund for Army

Plans to Place Large Orders to Purchase Defense Equipment

Washington.—(P)—President Roosevelt indicated today that increased appropriations would be sought for the army, but offered no suggestions on the amount.

He intimated that the added funds would be used to place large orders for defense equipment.

Asked at a press conference whether it had been brought to his attention that the army was drafting a program involving new and large amounts, the chief executive asserted that probably the best way to put it was like this:

When new production facilities are created, it is cheaper in the long run to give a sufficiently large order to keep them going at least for a while.

It is now being determined, he said, whether in some fields of production it would not save money to give expanded orders now, to assure industry it would get part of its money back.

Earlier Report

It had previously been reported that President Roosevelt intended, to seek an immense boost in the defense program that would more than double the $5,082,310,080 already appropriated and shattered the arms bill of the peak World war year.

The chief executive announced these additional steps in the defense program.

Donald M. Nelson, newly-appointed treasury procurement officer, will coordinate all national defense purchases for all agencies involved in the program.

Daniel J. Tobin, president of the American Federation of Labor Teamster's union, has been named a presidential administrative assistant and will come in Sunday afternoon to talk over with Mr. Roosevelt his new duties.

Tobin's specific functions are not yet ready for announcement, but Mr. Roosevelt expects him to be a general handy man.

Request Next Week

James Forrestal, appointed an administrative aid last week, has been asked to serve as the president's legs and ears for coordination purposes.

Report 23 Dead In Bombing Raid

Berlin.—(P)—Forty-three persons were killed last night in a British bombing raid on Netherlands towns, the official German news agency, DNB, reported.

The fatalities were reported in the town of Helder and vicinity. The British raiders were said to have been driven off by pursuit planes and anti-aircraft batteries.

Copenhagen.—(P)—Ten British planes dropped 20 bombs during the night at Nyborg on the Danish island of Fyn. No casualties were reported. Some Danish property was hit.

Transvaal Areas Ask For End of Conflict

Johannesburg, South Africa.—(P)—Resolutions demanding that the government withdraw from the war were passed at eight Transvaal centers today.

The meetings protesting the Union of South Africa's war policy were called by former Premier J. B. Hertzog, who bitterly opposed entering the war.

Hand-Grenade Tossed Into British Embassy

Peiping.—(P)—A hand-grenade was thrown today into the compound of the British embassy, shattering windows and wounding a Chinese employee. The grenade-thrower got away.

Conservatives In Full Support of Churchill

London.—(P)—A conservative party united under the leadership of former Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain pledged itself today to full support of the British government in its "determination to win the war."

In a statement issued on Chamberlain's authority the powerful conservatives denied and branded as "rumors obviously inspired from fifth-column sources" reports that Chamberlain heads a group which "is prepared to come to terms with Adolf Hitler."

Their declaration of "wholehearted resolve" to back Prime Minister Churchill and the government came almost simultaneously with raids on Britain by Hitler's bombing planes for the seventh time in the last 10 days.

This time the Nazi raiders appeared over northeast and south-east England and southeastern Scotland.

They were met by British fighter planes and intensive anti-aircraft fire and, according to a communiqué from the air ministry and ministry of home security, inflicted "no serious damage" and "very slight casualties."

The raiders ranged as far west as Wales, where two bombs were dropped without causing appreciable damage.

Many residents had narrow escapes in one southeast England district, where several fires were started by incendiary bombs.

A number of fierce air battles were fought off the southeast coast, and it was stated unofficially that the British fighters and defense guns had rendered this fourth successive night raid "abortive."

The statement by the conservative party—the power behind the government—"categorically denied" rumors which "have lately gained currency in the United States that differences of opinion exist within the cabinet and notably within the conservative party," and concluded with the declaration that:

"There has never been a time when parliament and the nation were more united in their will to complete the task to which they have set their hand."

Willkie and McNary Lead GOP In November Contest

Roosevelt Ready To Confer With Wendell Willkie

Washington.—(P)—President Roosevelt said today he would be glad to take about foreign affairs with Wendell L. Willkie, Republican nominee for president.

Asked at his press conference whether he had anything to say on getting together with Willkie on foreign affairs, the chief executive asserted that he would be glad to talk with Willkie at any time.

But when the reporters inquired whether he had anything to say on politics, Mr. Roosevelt replied that he thought not, as he had been pretty busy on other things.

He opened his press conference in a jovial mood, apologizing for being late and explaining that his elevator wasn't working because someone turned off power.

Grimacing, he said he was hoping it had no connection with what happened at Philadelphia where utilities executive Willkie was nominated.

Charge Allies Made Plans to Extend Strife

Berlin White Book Says
Nazi Offensive Halted
Drive by Paris, London

Berlin.—(P)—German charges that the allies were on the point of extending the war just before Germany launched her offensive on May 10 were made today in a two-volume white book issued by the Nazi foreign office.

At the time of the Nazi invasion of Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg, Germany in notes to those countries said that the allies had planned to use their territories in striking at the reich.

An announcement on May 10 by DNB, official German news agency, said that "German troops received orders to safeguard the neutrality" of the three countries "in order to ward off the impending attack" by the allies.

The published documents disclosed alleged plans of the French, English and Belgian general staffs for invasion of the Ruhr valley, German industrial center.

Americans May be Taken From Area

Hong Kong.—(P)—A decision on the possible removal of 1,000 American citizens in Hong Kong may come tomorrow. It was said tonight as British quarters disclosed they were holding ships ready to carry away women and children if it becomes necessary.

A statement broadcast by the government radio here said instructions had been received from London which indicate that an order for removal of the women and children might be made soon.

This was taken in some circles as indication that Britain had decided to resist Japan's demand for the closing of the Burma (British) route, over which arms have been shipped to China.

It was learned United States authorities have cabled the state department at Washington for permission to instruct the United States liner President Coolidge, arriving here tomorrow from San Francisco, to go to Manila and stand by until further notice.

At the same time, the steamer City of Newport News, which left Hong Kong today for America, could be recalled if necessary but the President Coolidge was considered large enough to take all Americans on board.

Iowa Boy Is Drowned In Eau Claire Pond

Eau Claire.—(P)—Ronald Metcalf, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Metcalf of Fort Dodge, Iowa, drowned in Devils pond here this morning. The body was recovered by firemen a half hour later. The boy came to Eau Claire a week ago with his mother to visit her parents. A 7-year-old cousin, with the Metcalf boy at the time, reported the drowning.

Wendell L. Willkie

Willkie to Quit Monday As Utility's President Formal Acceptance Speech May be Made at Birthplace in Indiana

Philadelphia.—(P)—Wendell L. Willkie, Republican presidential nominee, told a jammed press conference today he intended to resign Monday from the presidency of the Commonwealth and Southern Corporation, public utility holding company.

Willkie arrived late for a press conference after a closed, important meeting in his hotel room and laughingly announced, in response to questions, that he had already accepted the Republican nomination but that the time for the formal acceptance speech had not been determined.

"Don't spread any rumors," he said with a grin, seated on the edge of a desk in the glare of a battery of flood lights, "I've already accepted."

Plans Conferences
Willkie said he expected to have a series of conferences before the day is out concerning the selection of a chairman for the Republican national committee. He said, however, that he thought the selection of a vice presidential nominee was "a job for the convention."

Regarding his formal acceptance speech, Willkie said he probably would deliver it at Elwood, Ind., where he was born, but said that had not been decided definitely.

Mayor George Bonham of Elwood and his wife, who went to school with Willkie, attended the press conference.

Willkie disclosed that he would go out to the convention this afternoon but "not to make a speech, just to say hello."

In response to a question, Willkie said he would be "delighted" to see President Roosevelt at any time, adding he had seen him on several occasions.

"I think one should be courteous to his predecessor," Willkie said, amid laughter.

Cannot Mail Letter In Fire Alarm Box

Milwaukee.—(P)—A 75-year-old visitor from South Dakota had some slight difficulty in attempting to mail a letter at N. First and W. Wright streets late yesterday.

After she pulled down a hook attempting to open the door of the red "mail box," things began happening.

Before the elderly lady knew it she was surrounded by an assistant fire chief, and the crews of three fire engines and a truck company.

Hare and the Hounds Bothering Belleville

Belleville, Ill.—(P)—Sleep-disturbed residents gave police a real puzzle—how to teach howling dogs and rabbits the city limits.

Those who protested didn't object to the nocturnal chase in the country but asked the animals be kept out of Belleville.

Officers decided the easiest solution was to tie up hounds.

British Recognize General De Gaulle as Head of 'Free French'

London.—(P)—The British government tonight recognized General Charles De Gaulle as "the leader of all free Frenchmen."

General De Gaulle, dropped from the French army by the Petain government of France after he had called for continued resistance to Germany, heads a national committee of French in London—a sort of shadow government in exile.

"His majesty's government recognizes General De Gaulle as leader of all free Frenchmen wherever they may be who rally to him in support of the allied cause."

Lands Plane Safely After Wheel Is Lost

Milwaukee.—(P)—After a landing wheel had dropped off in mid-air, Pilot Milton Meyers, 38, brought his airplane and passenger down safely yesterday in a forced landing in a field near the Curtiss-Wright airport.

The passenger, Dr. L. A. Dennis, 25, of Watertown, was receiving a flying lesson when the mishap occurred.

The plane's landing gear and propeller were damaged in the landing.

Utilities Head Chosen on Sixth Convention Ballot

IN SECOND PLACE—The vice presidential nomination today went to Senator Charles McNary on the first ballot at the Republican national convention.

McNary Ready To Take Post Does Not Want Office But Is Prepared to Be 'a Good Soldier'

Washington.—(P)—Senator McNary (R-Ore.) said today he had told leaders of the Republican national convention that he did not want the Republican vice presidential nomination, but if the convention nominated him in face of this he would be "a good soldier" and accept it.

The senator earlier in the day said he had notified Republican leaders he did not want the nomination and said he believed he could be of more use to his state and nation if he remained in his present post, as minority leader of the senate.

Later, the senator said Chairman Joseph Martin and various other leaders of the Republican convention telephoned him from Philadelphia and insisted that he owed it to the party to accept the nomination. He said he had reiterated to them that he did not want the post but that upon their insistence he had told them that if the convention decided to choose him, knowing his feeling, that he would bow to its mandate.

McNary thus commented on the nomination of Willkie:

"His business experience should fit in for a business administration of government affairs. He should make an efficient and intelligent campaign."

"My opinion is his candidacy will be pleasing to the voters of America."

Refuses to Admit Picture of Victim As Trial Evidence

Milwaukee.—(P)—Municipal Court Judge Max Nohl refused late yesterday to admit into evidence a picture of the bullet-ridden body of Mildred Beil, offered by the prosecuting attorney in the murder trial of Harry Christiansen, 22.

District Attorney Herbert J. Steffes said the picture was taken in the county morgue after Miss Beil was shot and killed by Christiansen who then shot himself in the head. Christiansen is blind as a result of the shooting.

The judge upheld defense counsel's contention that the picture was prejudicial and inflammatory and might arouse the jury sympathetically or prejudice it.

Beverage Tax Group Won't Yield Records, Roach Says

Madison.—(P)—Officials of the beverage tax division of the state treasury, who declined yesterday to turn over to the research bureau files dealing with liquor revenue stamps, intend to "stand pat" on that action, John Roach, beverage tax chief, announced today.

"No action has been taken since the research bureau served subpoenas on us yesterday," Roach said. "We refuse to hand over the records, and we are maintaining the status quo. State Treasurer John M. Smith has approved our action."

The action against Roach's department stalled today, at least temporarily, by the absence of August Frey, research director, and James Fornary, research counsel.

Although he declined to disclose his plans, it was believed Smith planned to confer with Attorney

Arthur P. Burnham, Early Circus Man, Is Dead at Madison

Madison.—(P)—Arthur P. Burnham, former member of the Classic Concert company of Baraboo, predecessor of the Ringling Brothers circus, died at a hospital here yesterday. Formerly a resident of Janesville, he was employed there by the American Express company and the Rock County bank. He served as a captain and later as a major in the quartermaster department during the World war.

With the Classic concert company, which took to the road about 63 years ago under the leadership of Al Ringling, eldest of the Ringling brothers, Burnham was advance man, purchasing agent and moneymaker. The company toured southwestern Wisconsin and central Iowa.

He is survived by his widow, formerly Ava M. Whitney, of Monroe.

Ballot Totals Show Increasing Strength Of Party's Nominee

Philadelphia.—(P)—The race between the three leading candidates in the Republican presidential balloting went like this:

First ballot: Dewey 360; Taft 185; Willkie 105.

Second ballot: Dewey 338; Taft 208; Willkie 171.

Third ballot: Dewey 315; Taft 212; Willkie 239.

Fourth ballot: Dewey 250; Taft 254; Willkie 306.

Fifth ballot: Dewey 57; Taft 377; Willkie 426.

Sixth ballot: Willkie 998.

hotel suite, crowded with enthusiastic friends.

"Very Humble, Very Proud"

"I am very appreciative, I'm very humble, and very proud," he said.

"I intend to give everything I have to bring about American prosperity, building an adequate national defense and restoring national unity."

One by one, Willkie bowed over the "favorite sons" in the early balloting. Then his drive went into the camps of the men who three weeks ago had been favored to win the nomination.

First Dewey's lines began to tremble and crack. Dewey released his delegates on the fifth ballot, and there was a drive for Taft, with the workers of Herbert Hoover aiding in the push. But it failed.

The thousands in the galleries, hoarse from hours of shouting "we want Willkie," took up the chant again. Delegations that hesitated or turned against Willkie were booed; then cheered to a rafter-shaking echo when they turned back to him.

Mrs. Wendell Willkie

Wife Is Present As Willkie Wins

Stays in Hall Until Victory Nears, Then Joins Her Husband

BY SIGRID ARNE

Philadelphia — (P)—Mrs. Wendell Willkie, "a little bit numb" at the idea that her husband will contend for the presidency, said today she would help in the campaign if his co-workers don't "think she's excess baggage."

There is one thing she won't do. She won't make speeches.

She sat through the entire exciting day at convention hall yesterday as the votes fell by blocks into her husband's campaign kit. But not around her recognized her.

She had sent a friend out to buy her a big hat under which she hid, and she had borrowed a friend's ticket for a seat in the balcony.

She attended the session with Mrs. Frederic Atwood, of New York. When the Willkie votes began to climb near the 501 mark needed for nomination, Mrs. Willkie slipped out of the hall and down to a telephone to call her husband.

For minutes she couldn't get any of the phones in his suite. They were busy with other jubilant calls.

But finally she got through. Neither conceded the nomination was clinched. But they agreed that "it looked good." Then Mrs. Willkie went to the Warwick hotel, near the highball or two when he knocks off work.

His chief recreations are talking reading and pig-farming. He also enjoys movie "thrillers." He dresses informally, in loose-fitting dark blue suits, and wears inexpensive white shirts with soft collars.

This informality has extended to his office, where kindly old men greet visitors by their first names and Willkie, leaning back with feet on his desk or pacing back and forth, talks and argues about every subject under the sun.

Willkie is a strapping 6 foot 1 1/2 inch man who pays little attention to what he eats, is fond of "rat cheese," smokes two packages of cigarettes a day and likes a Scotch hobby. He led a successful battle in Akron against the Ku Klux Klan and in 1924 he was a delegate to the Democratic national convention.

His success as a lawyer for utilities firms attracted attention of B. C. Cobb, president of Commonwealth and Southern. Cobb induced Willkie to join the company in 1929 and when Cobb's health failed Willkie succeeded him.

In the midst of the depression Willkie hired 500 new salesmen, offered bonuses to employees to sell electrical appliances and introduced the "objective-promotional rate" by which the company cut the rate and doubled the amount of electricity sold for domestic use.

Battled New Deal Willkie's battle with the Tennessee Valley Authority, while the government was negotiating to buy certain Commonwealth and Southern properties, had both Wall Street and Washington in an uproar. He fought the TVA in the courts, before congressional committees and in published articles. His thesis was that the New Deal was working toward destruction of the electric utilities industry.

A high Washington source has since declared that Willkie's "shrieking" increased "by $30,000,000 the price TVA had to pay" for the properties. That was $78,600,000.

Wisconsin Votes For Dewey Until The 6th Ballot

Zimmerman Says State Delegates Abandoned Promise to Back Taft

Philadelphia — (P)—Wisconsin delegates to the Republican national convention stuck to Thomas E. Dewey, as they promised they would, through his losing battle for the presidential nomination, then tossed their strength to Wendell Willkie when Dewey finally released them from their pledges.

Chairman Bernhard Gettelman's "24 for Dewey" resounded from the loudspeakers in the convention hall through the fifth ballot last night as the New York district attorney's total slipped from 360 to 57.

Dewey then released the Badger delegates and the swing to Willkie followed.

On the final ballot, before Willkie's nomination was made unanimous, the Wisconsin vote showed 19 for Willkie, three for Dewey and two for Taft Secretary of State Zimmerman, Julius Spearbraker of Clintonville, and Norris J. Kellman of Galesville, voted for Dewey to the last. William Doll of Whitefish Bay, and Roston P. Wardle of Needah, voted for Senator Robert Taft of Ohio, on the sixth ballot.

Zimmerman made a last ditch fight for Dewey, bringing spirited reaction from his fellow delegates who wondered about his purpose in clinging to a lost cause.

"All I could do," Zimmerman explained later, "I'd been elected in the April election on the Dewey ticket, leading the ticket with 20,000 to 40,000 votes over any other candidate. My mandate from the people of Wisconsin was to support Dewey. That's what I did."

Zimmerman charged that others in the delegation abandoned a pledge to switch to Taft if released by Dewey.

"Within the hour," he declared, "most of the Wisconsin delegates signed a sheet, circulated on the convention floor, signifying intention to support Taft should Dewey release us."

He said that the turning point came when Kansas shifted to Willkie, but the nominee was in before Wisconsin was reached on the sixth ballot.

"I think the delegation did well in fulfilling the obligation imposed in the April election," Gettelman asserted. "I always was a Dewey man—and an opponent of the New Deal—but when it became certain that Dewey couldn't win and Taft couldn't stop Willkie, our state's duty was to join the majority in the interests of party harmony."

As he left the hall, Governor Heil congratulated Gettelman on his chairmanship, saying he thought the delegation acted "honorably" in sticking to Dewey until released.

Before the balloting started, Heil declared for "peace, harmony and contentment" in the Republican party and expressed the hope that all Republicans would work together after selection of a nominee.

The scene in the business district when radios blared the result of that sixth ballot was reminiscent of the gay '90's era when this industrial city—now in the heart of a rich farm belt—was the center of Indiana's natural gas boom.

Factory whistles shrieked; automobile horns tooted; townspeople jammed sidewalks and streets, talking, shouting, trumpeting on horns, pounding on pans, drums or whatever was handy.

Lots of Noise The noise-making was entirely spontaneous. Plans for a more formal celebration may be started as soon as Mayor George M. Bonham, an alternate delegate, gets back from Philadelphia.

The townspeople were given free reign until they finally straggled home. The police decided it would be futile to try to regulate traffic.

"It looks as if they might tear Elwood down," Sgt. Ray Ballard said.

"I think we'll let them, though," he mused.

Willkie promised Elwood friends several weeks ago that if nominated he would make his acceptance speech from the steps of the high school here. He has been invited to attend the Indiana tomato festival here the final night, July 26, in the hope he would make his speech there.

And about entertaining in the White House—She said, "I'll tell you what I think about that after I've done it."

Says Red Action Based On Fear of Nazi Army

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

Russia's successful ultimatum to Rumania, demanding sweeping concessions which include cession of Bessarabia and northern Bucovina, is to my mind largely a strategic defensive move against Germany in particular and the axis partners in general.

The thunder from the unimpeded charge of the great German war-machine across Europe is beginning to rattle the windows of Moscow's Kremlin.

The Bolshevik action has sent sparks showering about the open Balkan powder-keg. The situation is tense and there is danger of an upheaval in this cockpit of southeastern Europe.

If the Muscovites don't encounter any snag in carrying out this sudden maneuver which further scrambles the already unrecognizable map of Europe, the Reds not only will acquire fresh territory but secure a large degree of control over this important Balkan state which Hitler had staked out for himself.

This is calculated to improve the Soviet's military position, and further safeguard its interests in the Balkan peninsula and the near East.

The Berlin attitude that Germany is disinterested under such conditions can be dismissed as just another way of saying that Nazism doesn't want to talk. Equally unsatisfying is the idea in some diplomatic quarters that the Bolsheviks are acting with the approval of Germany.

Herr Hitler isn't likely to abandon his ewe lamb in such fashion. If he appears to acquiesce it is because forsooth there is very little else he can do about it, in view of his commitment to perform the considerable task of dismembering the British empire. The fact that King Carol appealed to Hitler for help shows how the wind lies.

Moreover, the Fuehrer can't afford to have a war started in the Balkans, because he is depending greatly on this area to feed his people in case the conquest of England gives him trouble and the British blockade continues to cut him off from food supplies.

Vital To Berlin Control of Rumania certainly is a matter of vital concern to Berlin. Here is the oil which is all-important to Germany, especially for war. Here are wide grain fields to help fill her cavernous bins.

Here the great Danube river, which winds its navigable way through one of the principal wheat-growing areas of the world clear into Germany, empties into the Black Sea and forms one of the reich's lifelines. One of the dreams of Field Marshal Goering, Hitler's second in command, has been to link the Danube and the Rhine and thus give Germany a through waterway from the Baltic to the Black sea.

The Russian demands are said to give Moscow control of the ports at the mouth of the Danube, as well as railway bases and the great harbor of Constanta, for a naval base. Goering's dream may go up in smoke.

No, I don't believe the Nazi Fuehrer has invited any such arrangement. Stalin has just beat him to the draw, that's all.

One of the most interesting aspects of this extraordinary situation to me is the Ukrainian angle. The peoples of Bessarabia (former Russian territory) and northern Bucovina are Ukrainians. When Stalin has joined them to the Russian Ukraine he will have united most all the Ukrainians in that part of the world, save a few in the Carpatho-Ukraine which belonged to the now-dismembered Czechoslovakia.

Hitler Wants Ukraine You will recall that after Hitler smashed Czechoslovakia it was reported he was fostering a movement to join into one nation all the Ukrainians, including those in Russia. In this way he might acquire the rich Russian Ukraine which he always has wanted.

Recently it has been reported that the Fuehrer was reviving this idea. Whether this be so or not, if Stalin has Bessarabia and northern Bucovina he will have eliminated the chance of Hitler getting a toe-hold

Reno Chain Letter Promises to Bring Him 15,175 Women

Lincoln, Neb. —(P)—Roy Petch, University of Nebraska quarter back, received this "chain letter" from the "Reno prospect club":

"This chain is started in Reno (Nev.) with the hope of bringing happiness to all. Unlike most chains, it does not cost you money. Send a copy of this card to five male friends, and bundle up your wife and send her to the person who heads the list. When your name works to the top, you will receive 15,175 women."

"P. S.—Do not break the chain—one man was known to break the chain and get his own wife back."

on the Russian Ukraine through these territories.

Before ever he came to power Hitler laid it down that Germany must possess the Ukraine in order to feed her people. Nothing has happened in any of his conquests to change the needs of the Reich for food supplies. She still is dependent on many imports.

The Ukraine is one of the richest spots of the world. It is among the greatest granaries, provides 70 per cent of Russia's pig iron, 80 per cent of her coal, 85 per cent of her sugar and virtually all of the manganese used in her industries. The Ukraine itself has huge industrial areas.

Hitler's reasons for wanting the Ukraine are quite apparent. An Stalin has equal reasons for protecting this gold mine.

King Carol must be a very unhappy man, as he waits to see whether he must face further territorial demands from Hungary and Bulgaria.

It is only 20 years ago that I was presented to his father and mother, King Ferdinand and Queen Marie, in London where they were being congratulated on Rumania's acquisitions of territory as the result of the World War. Overnight their little country had become great.

Crown Prince Carol was heir to a wonderful heritage. Now a score of years later he sits among the ruins.

Willkie Has Enjoyed Debate Since His Indiana Boyhood

Worked Way Through College, Served as Captain During War

Philadelphia — (P)—Wendell Willkie's knockdown and drag-out battles with the New Deal's Tennessee Valley Authority furnished the basis for the meteoric career in Republican politics which won him the party's presidential nomination.

A utilities executive, lawyer and Indiana corn-and-hog farmer, Willkie has been a registered Republican but two years. He supported President Roosevelt and the Democratic ticket in 1932 and remained favorably disposed to the New Deal for some years thereafter.

Coming finally to fundamental differences with it, he expressed his criticism of the administration and his own approach to problems of governments in these two major points:

1. "That such social and economic reforms as are necessary, including government regulation of business, should be accomplished by laws expressly stating objectives and methods and not by commission regulations."

2. That these reforms should be enforced by a government "friendly" to business.

Willkie has had life-long practice in speaking his mind. Whether attacking Wall Street or the New Deal he goes into battle, as he terms it, with his "dukes up."

His life has been one of action. Born 48 years ago at Elwood, Ind., he worked at a variety of jobs in his youth and while going to school. Later he practiced law and served in the army.

Today he is president of Commonwealth and Southern, $1,200,000,000 utilities firm that operates companies in the south, Michigan and the mid-west. He spends vacations at his 1,500-acre corn-hog farm near Rushville, Ind.

Willkie's parents both were practicing lawyers. His mother was the first woman admitted to the Indiana bar.

Willkie had an average, rough-and-tumble, small town boyhood, growing up with two sisters and three brothers in a three-story, maple-shaded frame house and in a yard overrun with cows, chickens, horses, dogs, cats and children.

As a youngster he swiped apples, beat up boys who jeered at his store clothes and shocked his mother's friends by inventing a gambling game played with Sunday school cards. But when angry neighbors called to complain of bloody noses and other familiar youthful offenses they were likely to find the Willkie children acting Hamlet, with Wendell wearing his mother's old petticoat for a cape.

At Indiana university Willkie was a campus spellbinder who debated Socialism and mixed in political fights when he wasn't busy frying eggs in a short-order lunchroom to pay his way. A panic had wiped out his father's savings.

To get his schooling he sold papers, collected bills, was a harvest hand and migratory farm worker, ran a cement block machine, made steel, worked on a Puerto Rican sugar plantation, and drove a baker's wagon.

He taught high school history at Coffeyville, Kan., returned to Indiana for a law course, then began practicing with his father.

Army Captain He enlisted in the army the day the United States entered the World War, became a captain and served in France. There he spent part of his time as a volunteer lawyer for court-martialed A. E. F. privates.

Back in this country he met Miss Edith Wilk, a librarian, at an Elwood wedding where she was maid of honor and he was usher. Soon she changed her name to Willkie. They have one son, Philip, 20.

Willkie went into the legal department of an Akron, Ohio, rubber company, then joined the Akron law firm of Mather, Nesbitt and

THIS WAS A SWIMMING POOL—There isn't much left of Appleton's municipal swimming pool and what there is won't be there very long for the concrete tank will be broken up to make way for improvements at the water purification plant. Last year at this time a picture would have shown hundreds of youngsters swimming and diving in the cool waters of the pool. The wood fence and dressing stalls have now been removed and all that remains is the cold, empty concrete tank. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Water Regatta Outboard Races Begin Saturday

Veterans of Foreign Wars are Completing Preparations at Park

Kaukauna—A rat-a-tat of hammer still sounds in Riverside park to remind Kaukauna people that the Veterans of Foreign Wars are finishing up work in preparation for the beginning tomorrow afternoon of the third annual water regatta on the Fox river.

The roar of motors on the river tomorrow morning and the white spray that streams behind racing boats will be a signal that the regatta is here, and the races are ready to start at 1:30 tomorrow afternoon.

Amateurs will rule the river tomorrow to warm the spectators up to the big time professionals, who will ride for the governor's cup on Sunday. Races tomorrow are being directed by the Stevens Point Boat club, one of the leading groups of outboard drivers in the state.

Parade of Yachts
Entertainment is on the schedule tomorrow too. Most glamorous part of the day will be the parade of yachts, outlined with burning red flares, which will maneuver in the dark of evening up and down the channel and in the forebay of the government dam. The Appleton boat club is in charge of the parade, and about 25 crafts are expected to take part.

Water ski riding by Irvin Schatzka, Desnoyer street, will highlight the afternoon entertainment, which will be sprinkled in between races. Schatzka is one of the few skilled water skiers in this section of the state. Miss Pat Charlesworth, Wisconsin avenue, will take part in the show with a demonstration of surfboard riding. Pat, a high school junior, has been surf boarding since she was in the grades.

Rides and concessions are being furnished for children. The usual lunch and refreshment stands are being operated by committees of veterans.

Dancing in Pavilion
A clown will perform during the 2-day program. He will carry on his antics through the crowd. Dancing in an open pavilion will be in order on both nights of the regatta.

The yacht parade will take place at 9:30 tomorrow night, with Judge Fred V. Heinemann of Appleton acting as fleet captain and heading the show with his yacht Horsethunder. Cruisers are coming from Appleton, Oshkosh, Green Bay, Neenah, Menasha, Fond du Lac, Menominee and Marinette. Prizes will be awarded for the most beautiful yacht, and also for the most comical entry.

28 Taverns at Kaukauna Seek New Licenses

Council Will Act on
Applications Tonight
At Adjourned Session

Kaukauna — The annual interest in Kaukauna's liquor business places will rise to take the spotlight tonight as the city council meets in the Municipal building in a special adjourned session to grant the liquor licenses.

Application for the $50 Class B liquor license has been made by 20 tavern operators at the office of Lester J. Brenzel, city clerk. Old licenses will expire July 1.

Other business to be brought up before the aldermen is the garbage disposal problem, which has been studied and discussed by the board of public works during the week. Representatives of firms selling garbage collection machinery have been invited to appear before the council.

Former Alderman Walter Kilgas will probably appear at the council again to press his crusade to bring about restriction of the raising of livestock in the Fifth ward, particularly on Beaulieu hill. He started the movement about a month ago, and appeared before the council again June 18.

Of the 28 applications, there are 15 from the south side, 11 from the north and two from the island. One Class A license is applied for, that by Jake Miller, for a retail liquor store on the south side.

South side applications were made by Lawrence Belongue, Martin F. Vander Velden, Robert E. Roberts, William G. Clune, Maron P. Hauschell, Walter W. Kappell, Martin G. Verbein, Eleonor Hansen, Edward R. Matchett, Joseph Wolf, Martin Komke, Joseph P. Gertz, Joseph Klein, John Coppes and Henry Alears.

Clapper Hopes Republicans Will Read the Papers in Time

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER

Philadelphia—Did you ever see a dream walking? Well I did. It's the Republican national convention. Some morning the Republicans will wake up and read the newspapers. Let us hope that it will not be too late. For the moment they prefer to live in a dream world. They mumble a platform which has less relation to the reality around us than Grimm's fairy tales.

Clapper

Reading the Republican platform you would never suspect that at this very moment some of the most decisive events in all history are heaving up over the horizon. They are destined, as surely as I am writing these lines, to cause the most profound changes to us. I don't want to seem frantic about this. But the appalling blandness of this convention, its apparent ignorance of what is about to happen, gives one a sinking feeling. Is this great political party competent to face the drastic world changes that are now coming out of the womb?

Do you realize what is about to happen? Read your newspapers.

Did you read that statement by Senator Key Pittman, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee? He said it is no secret that Great Britain is totally unprepared for defense against the German attack that is about to come. He said nothing the United States has to give could do more than delay the result—he means delay the inevitable defeat. He urged the British to transfer their navy to Canada immediately, implying that this was the only way to save it from falling into Hitler's hands.

Senator Pittman made the statement in : purely personal capacity. I am reliably informed that his judgment of the situation is shared in high official quarters at Washington. Think of it! The defeat of England is considered inevitable and the chairman of the senate foreign relations committee extends the British an urgent invitation to send their fleet to the western hemisphere so that at least this portion of the world can be made safe for survival of what is left of the British empire.

Fleet Superiority Will Go With the British
What Senator Pittman doesn't say but what he has in mind is that if the British fleet falls into German hands as the French fleet has, the United States will thereupon become an inferior naval power. Remember that in the Atlantic we have no Hawaii standing as an outpost. We have no outer line of defense. Our outer line of defense has been the British navy dominant in the eastern Atlantic. That guard is about to be lost.

Read your newspapers. Did you read the dispatches from Japan? The Japanese minister of war addressed his entire war-office staff and told them that Japan's hour had come. Japan, he said, must not miss this rare opportunity. Japan, he said, must act drastically against the powers who obstruct her policy.

The controlled Japanese press explained that Japan was preparing to issue a new declaration of policy proclaiming the autonomy of east Asia. Under this new policy "Japan will not allow any foreign power to interfere in east Asia, including French Indo-China and the Netherlands India." That means Japan is about to throw her clutches around one of our important sources of rubber and tin. It means the white man is to be driven out of the Far East.

Nazis Offering Trade Deal With Argentina
Read your newspapers. Did you see the dispatch from Buenos Aires that Germany already has offered to purchase immense quantities of foodstuffs from Argentina, and proposes to pay for them by electrifying the Argentine state railways and building hydro-electric plants? But I see by the Republican platform that America must keep Argentine products out of the United States. The Republicans didn't mention Argentina: they did it by declaring for an "effective quarantine" against imported agricultural products. That's the old question that has so embittered Argentina.

Read your newspapers. Read them and weep. They will tell you

In what kind of world we are caught. The Republicans won't tell you. They haven't read their newspapers yet. Their platform goes on fighting the last World war, telling us how much it cost in life and treasure. They don't tell us what this world revolution is going to cost us. Herbert Hoover knows. He is talking about some kind of western hemisphere tariff wall, a hemisphere trade cartel, some such thing as the Roosevelt administration is trying to work out.

But the Republican platform knows no evil, sees no evil, hears no evil. It comes out strong for equal rights for women, Negroes, Indians and Hawaii.

God save America. The Republican party will never save it on this platform.

Wild Balloting Before Willkie Is Nominated

G. Harding was nominated in 1920. Pennsylvania had a chance to become the key delegation to turn the nomination to Willkie. Its big delegation of 72 men and women had been giving the majority of their support to Governor Arthur James, but with a split that spilled more votes to Willkie on each ballot.

When the state was reached on the sixth roll call, Willkie had 438 delegates, the Pennsylvania delegation, voted solidly, would have put him across the line. But the delegation was outside in a caucus and David Reed of Pennsylvania, the former senator, passed.

Eight more states were called and each piled up more votes for the New Yorker. After Virginia had heaped more upon the total, it stood at 499 for Willkie, with the race squarely between him and Taft—and the senator slipping fast.

At this point, the Pennsylvania delegation filed back into the hall. Reed leaped up to report that his state wanted to cast its vote. The 72 votes were dumped upon the Willkie bandwagon.

But it would have gone over a moment later anyway, for Washington threw 10 more after Pennsylvania's 72.

Governor Bricker of Ohio sought, after the delegates began to fall away from Taft, to make Willkie's nomination unanimous, but Chairman Joseph W. Martin insisted that the roll call be completed to the last poll of protesting delegations. For half an hour or more after the issue had been decided, the roll call went ahead while state after state changed its vote to record itself unanimously for Willkie.

When 998 of the 1,000 delegates—there were two absentees—had been recorded for the new candidate, Martin allowed the motion for unanimity to be put. It was carried with an echoing roar of ayes.

That final climactic scene was one such as few conventions see. The end of the fifth ballot and the spectacular gain Willkie had made in it set the galleries to roaring. Tier upon tier, up the steeply banked walls, jamming every aisle, the visitors screamed down to the convention to nominate Willkie.

Martin hammered steadily with his gavel. Delegates and the floor managers for the candidates crowded in the downstairs aisles, conferring, taking delegation polls, trying to figure the next turn.

Word had spread that Mr. Hoover had sent word to his friends in the California delegation to

Do you know the mailman on your route? Every day, rain or shine, in summer and in winter, he stops at your home, providing a service that has grown to be essential as electric lights or the telephone. swing to Taft. Obviously, the final tug between Taft and Willkie had been reached. California voted 26 for Taft, 17 for Willkie, but in a poll 4, Hoover votes were weaned from Taft.

Michigan Ballots
As the roll call went ahead, women shrieked with each new Willkie gain. A hat was passed around in the Michigan delegation and into it each delegate, surrendering the pledge that had held him staunchly to Vandenberg through the successive ballots, was dropping a slip of paper that bore his second choice.

Maine passed for the moment. Up to this point, the race was neck and neck. Taft had 147, Willkie 148. Then Michigan was reached, and Howard C. Lawrence, the Grand Rapids banker who managed Vandenberg's campaign, asked to make an announcement from the platform.

"I wish to thank the supporters of Senator Vandenberg," he said in a tired voice. "Senator Vandenberg had just authorized me to release the Michigan delegation. In obedience to his instructions, we have just taken a poll. I will now read the result of that poll."

"It reads, Hoover 1, Taft 2, Willkie 35."

New Jersey Joins
His last words were drowned in a mighty roar from the galleries. Men and women leaped up and down. The crowd leaned forward expectantly to watch for the next big change. It came when New Jersey dumped its 32 votes for Willkie, adding 6 to those it had given him on the fifth ballot.

The hot, piercing glare of the blinding lights came on in the expectation of a quick nomination. From here on, state after state began to climb on the bandwagon. But Ohio held tightly for Taft. Oklahoma, which on the fifth ballot had given 13 votes to Taft, shifted 13 of these was reported to be one of quiet insistence that the end of greater Rumania as "an artificial political entity" was inevitable.

Reports circulated in diplomatic quarters that Carol told his cabinet he was willing to open negotiations "at a suitable moment" with Hungary and Bulgaria regarding their territorial claims on Rumania.

At the same time the king is determined to resist with force any attempts by those countries to repeat the Russian procedure.

The Soviet legation issued a statement this morning declaring that "Josef Stalin is immensely pleased with Rumania for her loyal cooperation."

Ion Inuletz, named by Carol for the post of minister for Bessarabia in a cabinet reconstruction during the night, announced that he had refused a cabinet place. This, he said, was a protest "against selling of territory from the fatherland."

Inuletz was one of those responsible for the attachment of Bessarabia to Rumania by vote of representatives after the World war.

Italy Won't Act

Rome—P—An Italian authority said today that Italy, working closely with Germany in diplomatic activity in the Balkans, would not oppose Russian action in Rumania.

The Italian view, as defined in unofficial quarters, is that Italian public opinion would welcome a peaceful settlement of Soviet claims on Rumania. Dispatches from Bucharest indicated Rumania would accept such a solution.

In government circles it was said Italy was kept informed of the Soviet-Rumanian situation and was studying it "with reserve."

Italy, it was said, was carrying on only "normal diplomatic activity in view of the delicacy and importance of the question."

Asked if Hungary had presented any demands on Rumania, an Italian spokesman said nothing had come to his knowledge officially. Consequently he was not able to answer whether Italy would support any such request.

But an authoritative fascist pointed out that Italy constantly has backed Hungarian claims.

War Situation Today

A clash of German and Soviet Russian interests as a result of the red army's march into Bessarabia and northern Bucovina appeared today in nazi reaction to the Soviet Union's triumph in Rumania.

Officials of the German legation at Bucharest charged that the Russian coup was a British-inspired trick to create a new front for the European war but that Germany would act only if her own territorial and economic interests were damaged.

Germany, they argued, is more immediately concerned with smashing Great Britain.

These quarters said frankly that Germany had advised Rumania to accede to Russia's demands on the grounds that it was only "a temporary adjustment" and that Germany "definitely will settle things later."

King Carol II's little Balkan kingdom of Rumania, after yielding to a stiff Russian ultimatum, rushed most of its 2,000,000 troops to the Hungarian frontier.

Hungary and Bulgaria called up reserves. Turkey sent her fleet into the Black sea, stripped for action and ready to defend the Dardanelles against any attack.

In Bucharest, German legation officials charged that the Soviet move into Rumania was a trick "inspired by Britain" to create a new war front.

Germany is avoiding any such trap, they said, and is concentrating on the main task ahead—the assault on Britain herself.

The situation was becoming hourly more grave, threatening to explode the famous Balkan "powderkeg" in a clash of bitter and age-old racial hatreds.

There was no tempering of the nazi Fuehrer's ambitions in the war with Britain. Authorized sources in Berlin stated bluntly that Germany's reply to any peace feelers from London is this:

"Cannons are speaking."

The British already have denied any peace overtures.

Russian troops, heavily reinforced by tanks and planes, poured across the Rumanian frontier shortly after dawn—swiftly following up the Russian ultimatum to Rumania which expired yesterday—and occupied four cities in the ceded provinces of Bessarabia and Bucovina.

While world attention shifted to the Balkans, the major European struggle between Britain and the nazi-fascist axis powers was marked by new German air-raids over the British isles and the torpedo-sinking of a deeply-laden 8,000-ton German transport by a British submarine off the south coast of Norway.

The sinking incident, though comparatively minor in itself, may have disclosed one of the first clues of the scene chosen by Hitler for his heralded invasion of England.

If the German transport were a troop ship, laden with soldiers enroute to Norway, it may indicate that the nazi Fuehrer has decided on the conquered Scandinavian kingdom as a springboard for his assault.

to support her population and obtain supplies to carry on the war despite the British sea blockade.

Hence, it was assumed generally that Adolf Hitler would place his influence on the side of peaceful adjustment of the ancient and conflicting claims embroiling the Balkans.

The only comment from authorized sources regarding Russia's demands on Rumania for territorial and other concessions was: "It's purely a Rumanian-Russian affair."

The general impression was that these nations' differences would be settled without resort to arms and Berlin professed not to know whether the long-standing Hungarian and Bulgarian territorial claims might complicate the situation.

From France came reports that German armies of occupation, taking over areas specified in the armistice, had reached the Spanish border, giving Germany a land route to Spain.

Breaking Up Steady Employment

Powerful forces in congress and in the state are seeking to scuttle Wisconsin's unemployment compensation law, according to Vevia Wraabetz, Chairman of the State Industrial Commission, and a man universally respected and trusted because in trying positions he has acted with steady head and judicial calm.

The Wisconsin Federation of Labor and the Wisconsin employers, together with other organizations are fighting these destructive forces of socialism because they find in the Wisconsin unemployment insurance act a practical means of creating steadier jobs and more jobs.

In fact that was the reason that actuated Wisconsin in presenting this law to the nation. The state reasoned that if it taxed an employer to create a reserve for the benefit of those he laid off, he would do his utmost to keep that reserve intact by so planning his operations and conducting his business as to minimize unemployment. And that is exactly the way it has worked out.

The federal government, on the other hand, saw this tax on wages as a great source of easy money because under the Social Security Act each state was required to turn over the millions derived from the wage tax to the federal treasury and receive from Washington more of their altogether too numerous I.O.U.'s. Now when a good unemployment compensation law like we have in Wisconsin places a limit on the total wage taxes a Wisconsin employer has to pay, if he maintains steady employment, the spenders in Washington have lost a glorious source of easy money and they don't like it a bit.

Wisconsin employers, large and small, have admittedly proven that the Wisconsin law has accomplished its purpose and that the money-mad New Deal grabbers must be prevented from upsetting it. At the Milwaukee Conference for Steadier Jobs recently, it was shown how hundreds of Wisconsin business men had revamped their operations, and numerous details were given to sustain their assertions. Employees were by some trained so they could be shifted from one department to another, from one job to another, or placed on maintenance work during slack seasons. Workers were exchanged by different employers when the peak demands of one coincided with the slack periods of the other, thus saving the immense confusion of one employer turning men out to roam for work while another employer may be looking for them. A number of employers reported that they had figured out new products to make or new services that could be rendered, both of which created more work to fill out seasonal lulls. Other employers, cooperating with customers, planned future product demands so as to make production steady and avoid the peaks and slumps so disastrous to workers. Other employers found it practical to create large inventories when sales were slack and instead of storing them at the point of manufacture distributed them among customers who were given the privilege of paying for the goods when the turnover was complete.

The employer has usually exercised due care in the purchase of materials but has been woefully lax in examining into the qualifications and the versatile abilities of individual employees. The Wisconsin unemployment act stimulates him to do all these things. It creates an interest in him in the very virtues established by steadier jobs and more jobs, induced by his own self-interest in the maintenance of his reserve for unemployment without the necessity of continually adding thereto, and continually seeing the fund depleted by an unemployment that care and ingenuity may favorably avoid.

The New Dealers who are championing the bit want these taxes to be perpetual because they want to use the money but they are also proceeding consistently with principles that never lived a gutter up to the second story but razed many buildings down into the gutter.

The pooling process is based upon the proposition that even those employers and their workers who strive manfully to knit together an attractive and enduring fabric of society must pay exactly the same as the dissolute, the despairing and the damned among mankind who don't care whether the smoke goes up the chimney steadily or not.

The Sedition Trials

Last January with many beatings on the big tom-toms of publicity 1. men were arrested at New York charged with conspiring to overthrow the government of the United States.

Their trial has just been concluded. It lasted two months. Evidence in bountiful quantities from numerous sources, including the ever present spy, was offered.

Most of the defendants belonged to the so-called Christian Front. They were young men whose previous records did not suggest revolution. Some of them were members of the National Guard. They had collected a fair sized arsenal with considerable ammunition. They had polished up their aim at constant target practice. They had spoken many wild and threatening words against our government whose rulers they acidly disapproved.

The point that should be kept in mind is that they were quite guilty according to the formal demands of the law. But the jury found nine of them not guilty and disagreed as to the remainder, voting eleven to one for acquittal even for them.

The defendants had admitted a great many of the acts upon which the prosecution relied for conviction but they declared their purpose was not to overthrow the United States government as such but really to protect it against the terms who are admittedly amongst us and who claim the President for a friend and Lady Roosevelt for a special intercessor.

Probably the success of the defendants in spite of the great flow of evidence against them was motivated by two considerations, first, that they really didn't mean their threats against the existing government and second, and more important, that the existing government needs some extra-legal organization to protect it from its own tomfoolery under which the avowed enemies of order and democracy have multiplied and thrived as never before.

There is a moral to the experience if there is any sight left in our rulers' eyes. That moral is that when enforcement of the law breaks down in high places revolt is likely to spread to all places, and that when a people see the constant evidence of murderous radicals in favor with the government and free from even our deportation law there will always exist a tendency to take the law in one's own hands.

And why not? And yet, what then? The result is as invariably the same as a circle is round although we have those high in authority today who claim a circle is square!

Gene Tunney and the American Youth Congress

Next month the American Youth Congress is due to hold its national convention at Lake Geneva on Wisconsin's southern boundary, and Gene Tunney is going into the ring, so to speak, to present some strong American resolutions in the effort to wash the dirty daubs of red with which the congress has been smeared by some rabid youngsters of disordered and delirious mentality. Mr. Tunney says that if a majority rejects his resolutions he and others are going to withdraw from the congress and set up a new organization that is not crack-headed and will have nothing to do with the frantic and raving adolescents.

The American Youth Congress got into bad hands because few made any objections. And those who have constant mental jimmies, see pink spiders and feel snakes in their shoes, came to believe that their dementia must in fact be normalcy since it received so much friendship from high governmental sources.

War and Intervention

The plank of the Republican platform which deals with the American attitude toward war and its stand in international affairs was drawn with scrupulous care. Its purpose was to handle one of the most critical problems of the day capably in order to insure the safety of our tremendous ship of state freighted with the lives of all our millions and the future of a great race of people whose greatness is possible of eclipse in the hands of the rash or the impulsive.

The Republican plank has a double value these days since the party that writes it, if endowed with power, intends to keep its word.

Her eyes are serene and untroubled.
Her frock has a trimming of lace,
And Sunday she wears her braids doubled!

Some girls with elaborate art
Pile curls in a bright silky stack,
But one who possesses my heart
Has two sunny braids down her back!

There are 42 "skyscrapers" in New York city over 30 stories high. The Empire State building has 102 stories, topping the list. The RKO Building at Rockefeller Center is No. 42 on the list with 31 stories.

Principal exports of Egypt include cotton, cotton-seed, sugar, cigarettes, onions, eggs, phosphates, rice and gum arabic, in that order.

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN
Philadelphia—There was something to that sensational story that Alf Landon conferred with Senator Burt Wheeler the day before the convention opened, but they didn't discuss the subject generally reported.

According to the story, Alf propositioned the Montana Democrat about taking a place on the Republican ticket; and John L. Lewis, Wheeler booster, was said to be in on the pow-wow.

Nothing like that occurred, and Lewis had nothing to do with it.

Sunday afternoon, during a jaunt on the yacht of a newspaper publisher, Landon told about the hot conflict raging between isolationists and the pro-Ally bloc in his subcommittee on the controversial foreign affairs plank. He expressed the personal opinion that the plank should lean definitely toward isolation.

Then someone recalled that Senator Wheeler had just threatened to bolt the Democratic Party if it took a warlike stand, and suggested that it might be fruitful to get his opinion on what the GOP plank should contain.

Landon thought this an excellent idea, and on the way back to Philadelphia telephoned Wheeler in Washington. They had a general talk about a foreign affairs plank, but nothing was said about the possibility of the Montanan jumping the traces to the Republicans. The whole purpose of the talk was a little missionary work in the hope of producing results later.

WILLIE AND J. L. LEWIS
Some time ago Wendell Willkie and John L. Lewis had a secret dinner together in New York, and strange as it seems, found themselves in agreement on almost everything. The chief point they disagreed on was Franklin Roosevelt. Lewis damning him so bitterly that Willkie finally came to his defense.

At first the two men sat around each defending his own interests. Lewis attacked the Morgans for running the utilities. Willkie told how he had had J. P. Morgan partners on his board of directors for years and never heard a peep from them.

Lewis rejoined with a story of how when he was settling anthracite coal strikes he would negotiate for weeks until he thought the thing was all settled, and then the coal operators always would have to consult Jackson Reynolds of the first National Bank of New York.

"Sure" shot back Willkie, "but that was anthracite, a dead industry."

Later, Willkie and Lewis warmed up to each other and began to discuss means of reducing unemployment through cooperation between government and industry. Willkie even agreed on a rather radical program of government loans to small business such as under the Mead bill.

MORGANS DELIGHTED
However, on the subject of Roosevelt, John L. Lewis got so vituperative that Willkie finally defended the president's record, saying it was not as black as Lewis painted it.

After dinner, Lewis took aside Morris Ernst, the host, and said that the ideas for economic improvement they had discussed should not be wasted. Willkie, overhearing him, proposed that they get together to see if they could work out an economic program which would get the cooperation of both labor and capital.

To this end, Morris Ernst later went to see Russell Leffingwell, a J. P. Morgan partner, and related what had happened. Leffingwell was enthusiastic over more labor-business cooperation.

"This is a golden opportunity," he said. "This is something Roosevelt can't do, because people are too sore at him. And the Republicans can't do it, because they aren't going to change a thing. But a few mixed dinners like this can do it. You ought to have some more parties like this."

MERRY-GO-ROUND
Willkie does certainly played for all it was worth the fact that the day the convention opened, Thomas W. Lamont, principal J. P. Morgan stockholder, and Frank Altschul, of Lazard Freres, secretly conferred with influential delegates in behalf of Willkie. . . . Senator Bob Taft is unfailingly patient and accommodating to photographers and they think he is a "sweet guy," but he makes no secret of his relief when they finally depart. . . . Tall, aloof Mrs. Russell Davenport, wife of the former Fortune editor who discovered Willkie as a presidential white hope, is called "The Duchess" by her friends. . . . Tall, blonde Governor Harold Stassen scored with the ladies in the audience. The young Misses made a striking picture under the glare of the floodlights delivering his keynote speech. . . . Quipped Jimmy Shay, crack former Washington correspondent, to Leo Casey, ex-GOP publicity director now doing the same job for the New York Fair, "If Hitler and Roosevelt would only lay off for a few days, this convention would have a chance at the headlines."

FRENCH FASCISTS
Washington—Inside diplomatic cables from what is left of France report that the real forces in the Bordeaux government are ex-Premier Pierre Laval and his close friend Boudin, governor of the Bank of Indo-China.

Laval is now one of the leading pro-fascists in France and one of the most vigorous critics of Britain. In fact, the entire cabinet inclines toward the fascist point of view, beginning with Marshal Petain, who was once picked as ambassador to fascist Spain because of his sympathies. M. Chippaie, who now governs Paris, was formerly chief of police, with avowed fascist tendencies.

Confidential dispatches report that both Marshal Petain and General Weygand have been on the verge of collapse. Weygand, who is 76 years old, was unable to stand up under the terrific physical strain of the French retreat.

Undoubtedly the weakness of the French cabinet is a reason for the flood of messages pouring in from Frenchmen all over the world refusing to recognize the Bordeaux government.

SENATE NAVAL MATTERS
It is Colonel Knox's luck to come up for confirmation before the most reactionary and politics-ridden committee in the senate. For the naval affairs committee contains more Roosevelt-haters than any other on Capital hill, which gives you some idea why they are against Knox for secretary of the navy.

Second ranking member of the committee is Tydings of Maryland, whom Roosevelt bitterly opposed for renomination. Also there is "Colonel Ed" Smith of South Carolina and Gillette of Iowa, whom Roosevelt also tried to purge; plus Rush Holt of West Virginia, who has damaged everything Roosevelt has done.

Also on the Democratic side are Byrd of Virginia and Peter Gerry of Rhode Island, two bitter Roosevelt opponents.

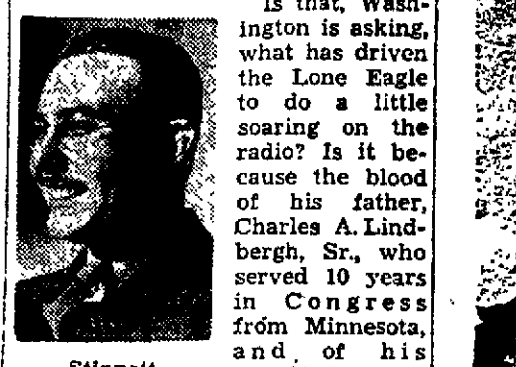

On the Republican side of the committee, Hiram Johnson of California is even more bitter, while Jim Davis of Pennsylvania and Barbour of New Jersey certainly are not Roosevelt critics. Freddie Hale of Maine also is a Roosevelt critic, but he is 100 per cent for the navy, and does not play politics where it is concerned. So if Colonel Knox gets a rough ride from the Senate Naval Affairs Committee, the country will know why.

A Bystander In Washington

BY JACK STINNETT

Washington—Fee, fie, to fum—in the veins of Charles A. Lindbergh runs the blood of a Congressman.

Is that, Washington is asking, what has driven the Lone Eagle to do a little soaring on the radio? Is it because the blood of his father, Charles A. Lindbergh, Sr., who served 10 years in Congress from Minnesota, and of his grandfather, Ole Mansson who was a member of Swedish parliament, heats up at time of great national stress that the 38-year-old flyer has plunged back into the spotlight with criticisms of the government and warnings that we are trending toward war?

Maybe. I wouldn't know, and Lindbergh is not telling. But whatever the motivation, Lindbergh has caused more furore in Washington in the last year than any other man outside government or congressional circles.

Boos to Praise
Four times in nine months, he has gone to the radio to take issue on matters of government. Last September and again in October, he condemned Congress for its move to repeal the arms embargo. Twice in the last month he has tossed the weight of his popularity and ability into the warning that "we cannot continue for long to follow the course our government has taken without becoming involved in war with Germany."

The reception of these speeches in Washington has run gamut from boos to high praise.

One Congressman said: "I suggest that every member of this house study Lindbergh's speech daily until it becomes thoroughly impregnated in and indelibly impressed upon the collective consciousness of this body."

On the other hand he has been accused of everything from being "a fifth columnist" to the relatively mild charge that "he is a young man inexperienced and totally unfamiliar with our country, its statesmanship and its military matters."

Senator Key Pittman (D. Nev.) said: "If Col. Lindbergh desires to help in our national defense, let him throw aside all his false political advisers and volunteer in the United States government as an expert in aviation. . . . Let Col. Lindbergh and his advisers know that when one fools with politics in a national emergency, he is fooling with disaster."

Sen. Ernest Lundeen (Farm-Lab Minn.) said: "We thank God for the Lindberghs, father and son—the immortal Congressman Charles A. Lindbergh, the invincible and intrepid Col. Charles A. Lindbergh. So long as America follows their crystal clear policies of patriotism we need have no fears for our ship of state."

Those are scarcely drops in the bucket of comment that has been put into the recent Lindbergh record. But it gives an idea of both sides of the picture.

Since Washington is predominantly behind the Administration's defense drive and almost equally as strong behind the Administration's "all aid to the Allies—short of war" program, it goes without saying that Lindbergh's popularity has taken something of a nose dive in these parts.

He Will Be Heard
The fact remains, however, that his speeches have carried some weight and it is considered a feather in the cap of the isolationists that they have Lindbergh carrying their fight to the people.

Just who his advisers are nobody knows. In the State Department, some old-timers have said, off the record, they recognize the hand of an assistant secretary of State under President Hoover in Lindbergh's speeches. They think such phrases as "stop these gestures with an empty gun" and "stop this hysterical chatter of calamity and invasion" are the trademark of this former official.

I wouldn't know, but before Lindbergh made his last address, he did confer with Senators Clark of Missouri; Wheeler, of Montana; LaFollette, of Wisconsin; Clark, of Idaho; Representative Van Zandt, of Pennsylvania, and other isolationists. They are not all Republicans by any means, the Clarks and Wheeler are Democrats and LaFollette is a progressive.

Neither Lindbergh nor the others have been fighting defense—just the "trend toward war."

If it's Lindbergh's political blood that has driven him to become the spearhead of the "stay out of war" movement, he scarcely could have picked a better time to jump into the Washington arena. He may be unpopular with the opposition, but he sure will be heard. The tempest he has already caused has proved that.

They Paid Piper

Memphis, Mo.—(U)—More than 12,000 rat tails were turned in to the county agent in a drive to rid Scotland county of rats. The merchants offered a bounty of one cent a tail, estimating that each rodent would do damage of $1 a year.

Old Shirt Booster

Houston, Tex.—(U)—Tom Baylor, assistant zoo keeper at Hermann Park, has an old shirt to thank for his life. A cow buffalo, believing he intended to harm her new-born calf, charged Baylor as he entered her pen. Her horn caught in his old shirt, but Baylor broke away and got behind a tree. Had he been wearing a strong new shirt, Baylor thinks, the incident might have ended differently.

Under the Capitol Dome

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison—Biggest news in the state capitol for several weeks has been the research bureau's investigation of the state conservation department, and it is to be expected, probably, that something drastic is anticipated by the public and by the politicians as the result of the sensational proceedings recently.

However, capitol observers are inclined to hold their predictions, remembering that an equally sensational investigation of the state highway department some months ago produced exactly nothing.

There were inferences, and direct charges, of irregularities in the awarding of contracts, in the purchase of oil and cement by the highway department, just as today the bureau alleges that there has been fraud in the conservation department.

There were threats of prosecutions and dismissals, just as there are today.

But nothing whatever happened. The thick file of the investigation, the recommendations and the findings, are stored away in a vault in the governor's office, almost forgotten.

Progressive publicists and stump speakers this year have repeatedly emphasized that the party's campaign this year must not be directed against Heil, but the Republican party administration.

Republicans are now beginning to talk the same way. A letter from a prominent Fox river valley Republican, commenting on some recent observations in this space, wants it understood that the Republican administration praised not Heil particularly, but the Republican administration and especially the Republican legislature.

GOODLAND THANKS
Senator Kenneth S. White of River Falls has received a cordial letter from Lieut. Gov. Walter S. Goodland upon the former's withdrawal from the race for lieutenant governor. White recently announced that he was quitting politics temporarily for his duties in connection with national defense. He is a major in the Wisconsin national guard.

The White withdrawal cases an awkward situation which developed with Goodland's change of mind on a candidacy. While announced himself after Goodland's original press statement that he was anxious to retire. Later he said that upon Governor Heil's request he had decided to run again.

ECONOMY
Sometimes the diligence with which Comptroller August Frey applies himself to the task which the governor has assigned him—the reduction of state purchases—leads to disputes with state capitol officials. A current case in point is the refusal of Frey to approve a requisition for additional arms for the beverage tax agents commanded by John W. Roach of the treasurer's office. State Treasurer Smith and Frey have haggled for a week on Roach's request for two additional machine guns and a riot gun, and the problem has finally been turned over to Heil for settlement.

Smith's argument is that it is his duty to extend full protection to his field men, who have repeatedly been fired upon in their raids on illicit alcohol establishments, and who are now producing more tax revenue than ever before.

One reason, among some others, why Paul Alfonsi stood little chance of getting the FLFP endorsement for governor at its Appleton convention last Sunday is apparent.

Personal Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Noted Physician and Author

OLD FASHIONED TYPHOID
Last year thirty-four cities in the United States had no deaths from typhoid fever—among these cities on the Honor Roll were Akron, Bridgeport, Duluth, Elizabeth, Evansville, Flint, Fort Wayne, Hartford, Jersey City, Milwaukee, St. Paul, Springfield, Utica, Wichita, Worcester. Everyday health resorts!

About fifty of the largest cities in the country, while not on the Honor Roll, nevertheless managed to achieve First Rank in the typhoid poll, by having less than two deaths per hundred thousand population in the course of the year. In the First Rank in this respect were Indianapolis, Peoria, Houston, Miami, Des Moines, New Haven, Birmingham, Newark, Louisville, Rochester, Buffalo, Los Angeles, Portland, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, New York, Grand Rapids, Buffalo, Pittsburgh, Baltimore, Washington, Seattle, Jacksonville, Omaha, Minneapolis, St. Louis, Dallas, Tulsa, Kansas City, Scranton, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Providence, Richmond.

Some cities, whose names need not be mentioned, had more than two deaths per hundred thousand population in 1939.

Fourteen cities have had no deaths from typhoid in two years. Bridgeport leads the country, having had no deaths from typhoid fever in six years. Fort Wayne has had none in five years, Utica and South Bend none in four years. New Bedford, Fall River, Lynn and Milwaukee have had none in three years. Lowell, Cambridge, Elizabeth, Kansas City, Kansas and Salt Lake City have had none in two years.

What a happy contrast this record is with the conditions that prevailed thirty or forty years ago! In my early years of practice each of the dozen doctors in the community of some 5,000 population expected at least half a dozen cases of typhoid every autumn.

Typhoid is on the way out. It is an old-fashioned disease.

The credit for this great gain in public health belongs mainly to better sanitation, improved water supply, chlorination of water supply and more efficient control of outbreaks and carriers by the vigilance of the public health authorities and the intelligent operation of practicing physicians everywhere.

Anti-typhoid vaccination probably contributes considerably toward the prevention of typhoid outbreaks or epidemics, although routine vaccination of the population is practiced only when some calamity such as flood, cyclone or earthquake deranges the sanitary control of water supplies, sewage, garbage disposal etc. Then, too, the great increase in fly-consciousness or popular knowledge of the danger of flies as carriers of typhoid, dysentery and other disease germs, no doubt has something to do with it.

Vaccination against typhoid is still essential for any one who may be in contact with cases of the disease and for anyone planning to travel in countries where sanitation may not be of the best.

Graduates Face Task in Trying To Secure Work

Babson Says America Needs Youth to Help Solve Major Problems

BY ROGER BABSON
Dixville Notch, N. H. — America's mammoth educational mills have just thrown 2,000,000 school and college graduates on the doorsteps of industry. Already plagued by nearly 10,000,000 jobless, this new army of hopeful adds further testimony to the fact that America must, as a vital part of our defense program, solve the unemployment problem. It is a new world that greets these 2,000,000 fledglings, a vastly different world than the textbooks just tucked away on the shelves told them about. But these newcomers into the battle of life are desperately needed in helping America realistically face her challenge in this world-wide revolution.

Bluntly, graduates must recognize there are not the same opportunities for them that there were for their fathers and mothers. Jobs cannot pay so much in the future as they have in the past. For the first time in half a century the trend of the profits of American business is headed downward. The increased efficiency of our factories, machines, and gadgets cannot offset the huge toll which defense expenditures will take.

For five decades, America's unsupervised engineers constantly improved the efficiency of our industrial machine. This increased efficiency, coupled with sensational advances in government and labor costs, has made it temporarily possible to work less, waste more, and yet enjoy a higher standard of living. Now, with government and labor costs still rising, increased efficiency of American factories and machines cannot hope to overcome the increased burden of mammoth defense expenses as well.

Effect of German Victory
With that point firmly fixed in mind, today's graduate should also weigh the effect of a German-controlled Europe on American economy. Right again, the truth here is that the United States is in the worst conceivable position in history. Despite our efficient industrial methods we are on the defensive against the markets because of our high cost of living, high taxes, and high wages. Moreover, a German victory always has a serious influence on Germany, Japan and Italy, will explain this to the fullest extent, particularly in South America.

Look at the situation of our American business. It will find itself at the mercy of a controlled Europe. Confident of a market for its goods, it has just offered steel for sale to South America for 10 cents a ton, or very at a substantial discount from our prices. She can dictate selling prices because she can dictate what she pays for raw materials. This is a very serious situation. Here the 1940 jobless should not rest on their laurels.

Opportunities Selective
So far, it is a pretty small, unlooked, and unimagined against the uncertain future of America's economy as a whole, and the opportunities in selected industries there are a few.

1. Chemicals. Most chemical companies are prosperous and have a tremendous future. Great developments are taking place in the plastic industry particularly. The future offers unlimited opportunities—war or peace. Fascism or Democracy, New Deal or Old Deal.

2. Aviation. The industry is America's youngest, America's most hopeful. The day is not too distant when it will be as cheap to ride the airways as the railways and the highways. Those interested in commercial piloting should enter through the air corps. But the industry needs more than pilots—it needs young men to grow up with it in its vital administrative work.

3. Building. One of the greatest contributions of the New Deal to the American scene is its attempts to put homes in the reach of small income brackets. It has solved the problem of financing and it is now attempting to solve the problem of high costs. Despite the uncertainties that war always brings to home building, I believe that building, its products, and trades offer real opportunities.

4. Merchandising. America still needs better salesmen. This includes stores, mail order, advertising, and personal selling. Whatever goods are made, or whoever makes them, they must be sold, irrespective of the value of the dollar or the character of the government.

5. Defense. The army, navy, air force, coast defense need able young men to make defense their career. The past 25 years clearly show that disarmament is a snare and a delusion—that this country must not be caught unaware as were France and Great Britain in 1938.

Must Make Opportunities
I am attending a convention of fire chiefs—men who never consider themselves and have no fear of danger. I cannot help thinking but that they have the key to real success.

Services at 9:30
Immanuel Lutheran church, Black Creek, will hold English services at 9:30 Sunday morning and Sunday school at 10:30.

Low mass will be celebrated at a 10 o'clock Sunday morning at St. Mary Catholic church, Black Creek, and at 9 o'clock at St. Denis church, Shiocton. High mass will be sung at 10 o'clock at St. Lawrence church, Navarino.

Masses Sunday morning at St. Peter and Paul Catholic church, Hortonville, will be at 7:30 and 9 o'clock.

There will be an English service at 9 o'clock Sunday morning at Bethlehem Lutheran church, Hortonville, of which the Rev. H. E. Wicke is pastor.

It is true that today there are few consolation to combat, that competition is very severe, and that 1940 graduates cannot depend on government aid, relief, or artificial crutches of any kind. Those, however, who make up their minds to work harder and longer hours, to follow the New Testament's command—to give full measure, pressed down and running over—those graduates will make opportunities for themselves which may lead to more in the end than they ever hoped.

In short, the future of the 1923 graduate depends upon what was about him, but the future of the 1940 graduate depends upon what is in him. Opportunities—Yes! But the opportunities of today are in the development—not of the character of the land but of the character of the man!

Report Results With Vitamin C

Tests at University Reveal Improvement in Breeding of Bulls

Dairy herd sires which in the past have been headed for the discard as slow or non-breeders can, in many cases, be brought back as breeding animals through a vitamin C injection treatment developed at the state university, according to County Agent J. F. Magnus.

Paul Phillips of the college of agriculture states in a bulletin that out of 29 bulls treated recently, 24 showed definite improvement in response to the vitamin.

Phillips explained that the vitamin C injection was useful in two types of sterility—the extremely young sire which has been put into heavy service at too early an age and the heavily used mature sire. Chronic cases of sterility, of more than two years standing, he said, were more difficult, if not impossible, to cure.

In the treatment used, crystalline ascorbic acid—the pure vitamin C—was dissolved in a salt solution. This solution was injected under the skin of the animal twice a week for a period of four to six weeks. In cases where the animal failed to respond immediately, the treatment was continued for a longer period.

Attempts were made to feed the vitamin to some of the animals, said Phillips, but were not successful. It is believed that the substance is destroyed in the digestive tract before the animal's body is able to absorb it.

List Suggestions To Prevent Bloat

To cattle owners who would avoid trouble from bloat this year, W. Rupel, state dairy husbandman, in a bulletin to County Agent J. F. Magnus, offers the following suggestions.

Avoid turning hungry animals onto rank growing pasture. It is advisable to partially fill the animals by stable feeding first. Rupel says.

Accustom cattle gradually to any change either from stable feeding to pasture or from one type of pasture to another, especially to clovers or alfalfa pasture.

Avoid pasturing when pasture is heavily wet with dew or rain in hot weather. If cattle are held off pasture for any length of time they will be hungry and should be partially filled by hay feeding before they are again turned on pasture.

Providing ample drinking water and avoid conditions that will encourage the cow to drink heavily at one time, either just before grazing or just after grazing. A continuous supply of water is desirable.

Provide salt where cattle may have free access to it.

Tests Show Inbred Calves Weigh Less

Inbred calves have proven significantly lighter in weight than outbred calves, according to a report received by County Agent J. F. Magnus on records kept in three large Wisconsin dairy herds.

G. E. Dickerson, of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture, told members of the 1940 session of the American Dairy Science association that where brother-sister or parent-offspring crosses were made, the birth weight of the progeny was about 3 per cent below that of calves from outbred, or unrelated, crossings. Estimated body weights at six months of age for the inbred calves were about 5 per cent below that for the outbred animals.

Birth weight comparisons have been made on 71 inbred and 100 outbred calves from eight different sires in the herds, according to Dickerson. Measurements at six months of age have been obtained on 58 inbred and 73 outbred calves.

The amount of inbreeding varies from sire-daughter matings to half or three-quarter brother-sister matings, he explained. Dams of the inbred and outbred calves averaged much the same in size, so that the depression in birth weight of the calves can be attributed directly to the effects of inbreeding.

Not only was there a significant difference in size at six months of age for calves from the two methods of breeding, but there were also genetic differences between sires of different families in the depression effect of inbreeding on the size of their offspring, the geneticist pointed out.

Wisconsin Wage Earners Are Better Off Than in '29

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau Madison—Wage earners in Wisconsin manufacturing industries today are relatively better situated than they were in 1929, although Wisconsin farmers are behind, industrial commission economists reported here today.

While the cost of living, according to the industrial commission is today about 18 per cent lower than it was in 1929, Wisconsin wage earners in manufacturing industries are being paid only slightly less than the 1929 average, it was shown.

Farmers, however, are being paid only about 60 per cent of the 1929 price level, the industrial commission statistics revealed.

At the same time the industrial commission showed that in April employment in retail trade in Wisconsin increased slightly over the previous month, and April of last year, while employment in manufacturing in Wisconsin decreased about 1 per cent below March, although holding an increase of almost 8 per cent over the same month of 1939.

Employment in the Fox river valley manufacturing communities remained fairly constant during the month.

Appleton's wage earners declined less than 2 per cent from March, and less than 1 per cent from the April, 1939 figure. The average weekly wage during April was $23.61 for a week of 39.1 hours.

In Green Bay wage earners increased slightly, less than 1 per cent while total payroll showed a rise of about 4 per cent. The average weekly pay check was $26.86 for 41.1 hours of work.

Manitowish, Neenah, Menasha, and Oshkosh declined slightly in their employment figures, the industrial commission reported.

County Crops Damaged Little By Heavy Rains

The recent heavy rains have not damaged crops in Outagamie county except those in low spots, according to J. F. Magnus, Outagamie county agricultural agent.

A number of farmers have started the cutting of hay, but because of the wetness some farmers are putting in molasses silage.

Corn and grain crops look good, Magnus said, but the heavy stealing of grain may make it difficult to harvest. The heavy rains have caused some lodging which may result in the smothering of new seedlings.

The rains also have delayed cultivating work with the result that some fields are beginning to be infested with grasshoppers. Hay caused some damage to spinach crops in the vicinity of Black Creek.

The outlook for the pea crop looks good, although there has been some trouble with lice. This has been taken care of in some sections by spraying dust with airplanes.

Others were about 5 per cent below that for the outbred animals.

The recent heavy rains have not damaged crops in Outagamie county except those in low spots, according to J. F. Magnus, Outagamie county agricultural agent.

A number of farmers have started the cutting of hay, but because of the wetness some farmers are putting in molasses silage.

Corn and grain crops look good, Magnus said, but the heavy stealing of grain may make it difficult to harvest. The heavy rains have caused some lodging which may result in the smothering of new seedlings.

The rains also have delayed cultivating work with the result that some fields are beginning to be infested with grasshoppers. Hay caused some damage to spinach crops in the vicinity of Black Creek.

The outlook for the pea crop looks good, although there has been some trouble with lice. This has been taken care of in some sections by spraying dust with airplanes.

Others were about 5 per cent below that for the outbred animals.

Birth weight comparisons have been made on 71 inbred and 100 outbred calves from eight different sires in the herds, according to Dickerson. Measurements at six months of age have been obtained on 58 inbred and 73 outbred calves.

The amount of inbreeding varies from sire-daughter matings to half or three-quarter brother-sister matings, he explained. Dams of the inbred and outbred calves averaged much the same in size, so that the depression in birth weight of the calves can be attributed directly to the effects of inbreeding.

Not only was there a significant difference in size at six months of age for calves from the two methods of breeding, but there were also genetic differences between sires of different families in the depression effect of inbreeding on the size of their offspring, the geneticist pointed out.

Shrine Club To Take Part In Ceremony

Appleton Shrine club will participate in the Shrine ceremonial, one of lodges' most colorful meetings, which Tripoli temple of the Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine will hold in Green Bay Aug. 10. The ceremonial is being held in Green Bay as part of the illustrious Potentate Henry F. Hagemester's policy to bring the Shrine to its members in northeastern Wisconsin. It is usually conducted at the temple in Milwaukee.

By bringing the ceremonial to Green Bay, Mr. Hagemester's home town, the officers of Tripoli temple are giving this part of the state an opportunity to see the colorful units which are a part of the ceremonial and also provide local Shriners with an opportunity to participate in the program which is a highlight of the Shrine year.

Appleton Shriners who are on the committee appointed by the potentate are Dr. C. A. Pardee, Guy Waldo, George R. Wetzel and Dr. H. K. Pratt. It is expected that six candidates from Appleton will be among the 50 or more men who will be initiated at that time. More than 1,000 nobles are expected to attend the ceremonial.

The Shrine Tripoli band, the Oriental band, the Tripoli chanters and the Tripoli temple patrol will be present, and a concert and marching drill will be held on the courthouse lawn in the evening. Shrine sessions will be held in the Columbus club.

Imperial Potentate George Oldendorf, Springfield, Mass., and Andrew D. Rahn, Minneapolis, past imperial potentate, have been invited to attend Other Shrine temples have indicated that they may send units to participate in the ceremonies.

Delta chapter, Employees Mutual Benefit association, had a short business meeting, followed by a social, Thursday afternoon at Odd Fellows hall. Cards and dice were played. Mrs. Dale Cole winning at bridge. Mrs. Albert Sanderfoot at schafkopf and Mrs. Nick Kioiss at dice.

While the adults played cards, children played on the park equipment at the annual picnic of the auxiliary to National Federation of Post Office Clerks Thursday afternoon at Pierce park. Ten members were present. A basket lunch was eaten in the evening. There will be no more meetings until September.

All the Same
Tulsa, Okla. — The time after time police raided gambling places in the Negro quarter.

On the next intrusion the police were met by a Negro who announced naively: "Can't arrest us, boss. We ain't playing draw poker. Just pokema."

Invited to demonstrate the fine points of the new game, the Negro did so.

"May be a new name but it's still draw poker to us," the officers announced "Come along."

Scissors Cost
Paris — The As an economy measure the French censorship is now using sharpened scissors—actual as well as symbolical—of its authority.

During the first months of the war scissors were replaced in the censorship officers at the rate of 10 or 15 pairs a week. Now they are being done over.

Some 200 pairs of scissors have been used by the French censors since the beginning of the war.

Duplication
Indianapolis — The Indiana Conservation department says the state's deer population now is more than twice the United States biological survey's estimate of 400—and there's a reason. Last year, department game wardens report, many does had twin fawns. Of more than 40 fawns born in one county, more than half were twins.

Hearing to be Held on Coal Freight Rate

Service Commission To Take Testimony on Modification Request

Madison — The public service commission today ordered a hearing here July 11 on intrastate freight rates charged by Wisconsin railroads for coal and coke shipments.

The commission said "various corporations engaged in the sale of coal from Milwaukee docks filed a petition to modify and amend previous orders to permit railroads to maintain rates from Milwaukee to Neenah and Menasha on the same basis as are now in effect from Green Bay and other docks."

Rates now effective were installed May 1, 1939, when an order reducing rates on hauls up to 100 miles by 10 per cent was issued.

The commission authorized the Wisconsin Gas and Electric company to construct an 18 mile, 26,400 volt transmission line between Port Washington and West Bend at a cost of about $63,000.

It said load requirements in the vicinities of those communities had increased and were increasing to such an extent that additional facilities were necessary for adequate service.

The application of Rockland town, Manitowish county, for a new crossing where the Soo Line tracks will be intersected by relocated Highway "J" will be investigated, the commission said.

The commission said it would order a hearing on complaint of the Milton Junction Commercial club, Rock county, that a crossing over the Milwaukee road tracks in the southern part of the community is dangerous.

A hearing will be held at West Allis July 1 on the city's complaint that the present terminus of the National avenue street car line at S. Seventh street and West Greenfield results in congestion and inconvenience to passengers.

Welfare Worker Guilty Of Omission of Duty

Kankakee, Ill. — Circuit Judge James V. Bartley today convicted A. L. Bowen, state welfare director, of palpable omission of duty for failing to provide safe drinking water at the Manteno State hospital where 63 persons died of typhoid fever last summer.

The case was decided on evidence presented last winter before a jury which could not agree on a verdict.

The 70-year-old welfare director, who said he would ask for a new trial, faces a maximum fine of $10,000 and dismissal from the state service.

$25,000 Cranberry Crop Loss From Heavy Rains

Wisconsin Rapids — Damage to the cranberry crop in the Cranmoor area near here due to high water brought on by heavy rainfall has been estimated at $20,000 to $25,000.

Vernon Goldsworthy, manager of the Wisconsin Cranberry Sales company, said the water had begun to drain off the cranberry bogs, but it had covered vines and killed blossoms in some sections. Water covering the vines 15 to 18 hours kills the blossoms, he said.

A hearing will be held at West Allis July 1 on the city's complaint that the present terminus of the National avenue street car line at S. Seventh street and West Greenfield results in congestion and inconvenience to passengers.

Farley Comment On Nomination

Washington — James A. Farley, Democratic national chairman, said today that this was the question posed the nation in the light of Wendell Willkie's nomination by the Republicans to be president:

"What sets of forces, economic and social, are to conduct our government—the historic American processes, or some new and somewhat foreign methods of concentrated control?"

Speaker Bankhead, who will be keynote speaker at the Democratic convention next month, had this comment:

"The nomination of Mr. Willkie provides a clear-cut division between the two major parties. If the voters wish to place the executive in the control of forces which are somewhat foreign to our usual American way of life, and which will doubtless largely dominate the actions of the Republican nominee, they have a constitutional right to do so in November."

Domesticity
London, England — A man was feeding a camel in Chessington zoo in August, 1938. His mind on the income tax and his wife's new hat, he handed the camel an apple. The camel took the apple and topped it off with a bite of the man's hand. The man got a lawyer. The lawyer said the question was whether the camel was a domestic animal. If it wasn't, people shouldn't be allowed to feed it. He said the zoo ought to pay the man for injuries to his hand. But the court said different, granting the camel domestic status.

MacDowell Chorus Party Is Caught in Rain Again but Songsters Carry on Anyway

Having postponed their garden party once because of rainy weather, members of Appleton MacDowell Male chorus disregarded the elements last night and gathered for their party at the Louis Waltman, Sr., home, 932 E. Eldorado street. The rain which started to fall early in the evening precluded any efforts to use the lights which had been planned for the illumination of the lawn and garden, so when the guests arrived they were ushered into the garage, on the porch and into the house.

Informal singing groups were organized with Roger La Berge acting as master of ceremonies, and after the arrival of A. A. Glockzin, director of the chorus, the entire group sang some of the old favorites from the repertoire of previous seasons. The WBBY quartet composed of Len Krueger, Gordon Heule, Del Bradford and Meyer Gabriel sang. Roger La Berge presented a comedy sketch.

A surprise feature of the program was the showing of baby and teen-age pictures of several of the chorus members on a large screen installed in the garage by Louis Waltman, Jr.

Francis Proctor, former accompanist for the chorus, now head of the music department at Hiram college, was a guest last night. About 60 persons were present. Refreshments were served in the house later in the evening.

The Nite-Out club was entertained last night at the home of Mrs. Clarence Cotter, E. Lee street. Wisconsin Bird Lore

TREE SWALLOW

(This is one in a series of articles on Wisconsin birds prepared by the Wisconsin Wildlife federation and intended for scrapbook use.)

It is a common summer bird in Wisconsin, nesting throughout the state but less numerous in prairie areas. Its nesting area runs from Canada to southern California, Colorado, Kansas, northeastern Arkansas and Virginia. It winters from central California, southern Texas, the lower regions of the Gulf states and North Carolina to Honduras and Cuba.

About 20 percent of its food is vegetable, chiefly berries and a small quantity of seeds. Flies are its favorite food but it also eats weevils, ants, wasps, wild bees, plant lice, tree-hoppers, chinch bugs, moths, dragonflies, etc.

It nests in woodpecker holes and frequently in bird boxes. The nest is of dried grass lined with feathers. After the nesting season, late in July or early August, old and young gather in large flocks flying in wide circles over fields and lakes or resting in long rows on telegraph wires or in dead tree tops.

Wisconsin Health

BY DR. C. A. HARPER
State Health Officer

For the ten years ending with 1937, Wisconsin recorded an annual average of 425 deaths from appendicitis, but in 1938 there were only 325 and in 1939 there were only 327 deaths from this cause.

Since 1934 three Wisconsin health groups, The Wisconsin Pharmaceutical association, the State Medical society and the state board of health, have united on a brief code aimed at cutting down deaths from this cause, in the belief that such deaths are largely preventable.

The code:
1. Avoid laxatives or physics in the presence of abdominal pain.
2. When abdominal pain, cramps or soreness last several hours, see your family physician or other surgeon the day.

In view of the marked reduction in deaths from appendicitis during the past two years, it appears that these two simple tips have been read and remembered by many of our people.
If it be true that this simple code has been instrumental in reducing Wisconsin's appendicitis toll to this extent, we have reason to believe that our newspapers, which have so loyally aided the cause of public health through three generations, will continue to keep the two rules in the public eye.
Appendicitis usually gives warning before the condition of the victim becomes critical, and if the two simple rules are remembered at the time of the first warning, there is good reason to believe that further marked reduction in our deaths from this cause will be effected.

Final Plans for New Courthouse Given Approval

Building Committee Taking Construction Bids Until July 19

The courthouse building committee yesterday approved final plans and specifications for Outagamie county's new courthouse.

Copies of the plans and specifications will be made and sent to each county supervisor, and any recommended changes will be considered at a meeting of the committee July 12. Bids are being received on the new building, which will include a penthouse jail, until July 19.

Action of the committee yesterday brings actual building operations, which will start this summer, a step closer. Checking the plans was a lengthy and detailed operation, as the committee met with all department heads concerning needed space for their offices.

The new building will cost $325,000. Bonds amounting to $325,000 were voted by the county to help finance the project, while the remainder of the cost will be covered by money from the building fund set up for the project several years ago by the county board.

The county executive committee met yesterday morning and allowed $15 for the purchase of containers by the public welfare department to distribute 4,200 pounds of lard from the Surplus Commodities corporation.

It Is Said---

That Oscar J. Schmieg, Appleton, delegate to the Republican National convention came in for some unexpected excitement at Philadelphia when he stepped into an elevator on the fifteenth floor of a hotel with three other Wisconsin representatives.

The elevator began going down without direction of the operator. The operator, alarmed, told the passengers that the elevator was loaded too heavily and couldn't be stopped. He advised some of the passengers to jump out when he opened a door as they went slowly down past another floor. Four jumped, and a fifth started when the operator announced, "That's enough."

On the ground floor, Governor Heil, Schmieg, Assembly Speaker Vernon Thompson and Delegate Allen C. Wittkopf, Florence, walked out, expelling breaths of air that were held in suspense for long seconds.

Valley council scouts attending Gardner Dam this summer will find new help for their song sessions.

The council has purchased a piano, which went up to the camp via truck this week. It will be set up in the main lodge where the scouts eat their meals.

Mayor Goodland yesterday received a letter from Dr. Herbert Marshall, Charleston, Mo., who says he is a candidate for president of the United States on the Democratic ticket. His card reads "I Am A Democrat" and his letter starts out with several quotations from the Bible and ends with the plea "Lay down your politics and elect a good honest man."

Denies Treat Influenced Cancellation of Transfer

Brigadier William H. Fox, divisional commander of the Salvation Army, and the Appleton unit's advisory board are at odds today on just why Adjutant T. A. Raber, head of the Appleton unit, was permitted to stay in Appleton after his transfer was ordered by divisional headquarters.

Adjutant Raber was scheduled to leave Appleton June 30 for an unnamed destination after three years as head of the Appleton activities. When orders for the transfer were received, the Appleton advisory board met and voted unanimously to resign to a man if Adjutant Raber was transferred, according to E. W. Shannon, board president.

Shannon said a petition carrying 200 signatures protesting the transfer was sent to divisional headquarters and that prominent individuals sent telegrams. After that the transfer orders were cancelled and Adjutant Raber was permitted to stay in Appleton.

Brigadier Fox, in a letter to the Post-Crescent flatly denied that the action of the advisory board had anything to do with the decision of headquarters.

State Fair to Be 'Cleaned Up'

Gambling Games and Hawkers on Way Out; New Buildings Ready

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau. Madison—Believing that the carnival atmosphere which prevailed at the old time county fairs is no longer compatible with modern conditions, officials of the 1940 Wisconsin state fair which will be held at the state fairgrounds in Milwaukee in August, have taken new steps in the direction of "purifying" the exposition, it was learned today.

Bingo and similar games, and the last remaining hawkers will go, said Fair Manager Ralph E. Ammon today. At the same time various improvements in the premium list, and in fair facilities were going forward, he said.

New buildings valued at $45,000 are now being completed, and for the first time there will be a special Wisconsin classification for livestock prizes, he said.

The buildings are being financed out of profits of the last few years, according to Ammon, who points out that since 1934 the fair has shown consistent, though moderate profits, in contrast to the losses underwritten by state appropriations earlier.

About $100,000 will be distributed in cash premiums to exhibitors this year, and the management expects last year's attendance total of more than 600,000 to be equalled or topped this year.

The fair annually handles a budget of more than $400,000, Ammon pointed out.

Credit Willkie's Nomination for Market Upturn

One of Sprightliest Stock Upwings in Month Is Recorded

New York—(AP)—Nomination of Wendell L. Willkie as the Republican presidential standard-bearer was credited by many in Wall street today for one of the sprightliest stock market upwings of the month.

In fast dealings, with utilities in front, leaders bounded up 1 to more than 4 points at the start. Profit-taking soon crept into the list and slowed the pace appreciably. Top marks, consequently, were cut substantially at the close. Transfers were around 1,200,000 shares, with the first hour accounting for about half the turnover.

While the change in the domestic political picture tended to obscure European war bulletins, rapidly shifting affairs in the Balkans served to restrain speculative forces. Continuance of peace talk also helped stem the tide.

Conspicuous on the morning move were North American, Consolidated Edison, Public Service of N. J., American Water Works, United Gas Improvement, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Dow Chemical, Du Pont, Westinghouse, General Electric, American Smelting and Sears Roebuck.

Power and light company bonds, together with secondary rails, were in demand. Commodities turned irregularly lower, with rubber futures weakening. Wheat at Chicago was off 1/4 to 1 cent a bushel and corn up 1/4 to 1/2. In late transactions cotton was down 20 to 35 cents a bale. "Free" sterling backed away in terms of the dollar.

That the financial district felt a shade more cheerful was indicated by the sale of a stock exchange membership for $40,000, up $3,000. On June 13, last, a seat sold at $36,000, a new low since 1914.

A decrease of around 2,500 units in this week's automotive output was in line with expectations. Owing to shutdowns for the holiday next week, another sizable decline was looked for.

The Weather

Rain also fell over the west Gulf coast, but generally fair weather prevailed this morning over the New England states and from the Rocky mountains westward.

It was warmer this morning over the Lake region, but it was cool over the northern Rocky mountains. Showers and cooler weather are expected in this section tonight, followed by partly cloudy and cooler Saturday.

Board Sustains Order Revoking Dairy's Permit

License Lost Because Company Sold Product Under Regulated Price

Madison—The state board of agriculture has sustained the decision of Director Ralph E. Ammon of the state department of agriculture revoking the license of the Quaker Dairy of Appleton, it was announced here today.

Ammon revoked the firm's license to do business several weeks ago after the department had filed a complaint alleging that the company had violated the fluid milk price order for the Appleton regulated market by selling milk on a cash and carry basis at eight cents a quart.

The ordered price of milk in the Appleton area, under the state milk control law administered by the department, is ten cents a quart.

In an all day session Wednesday, the board of agriculture heard the appeal from Ammon's order, but refused to rescind it.

After the original complaint had been filed against the dairy, the farm officers petitioned the department to amend the Appleton milk area order to allow cash and carry sales of milk at a discount from the regular delivered price. The department held a hearing, but declined to make the change.

According to the formal charge, the dairy bought milk from farmers and later from a neighboring milk plant at surplus prices. Ammon said the milk control law, which regulates the fluid milk market, is a "cash and carry" law. The law is customarily considerably higher than the surplus price level. The surplus price is a composite of commodity prices, cheese factory and creamery prices.

Noise of Boats In River Draws Council Wrath

Third Ward Alderman Demand Enforcement Of Menasha Ordinance

Menasha—The Menasha council took objection to excessive noise, both by outboard motorboats and by motorcycles, at a special session Thursday night at the city hall.

William Karrow, Third ward alderman, led the protest against motorboats and asked that the police department rigidly enforce the city ordinance.

Karrow pointed out that it is not only the noise but also the danger to fishermen and others in rowboats which makes it necessary that the speed of outboard motorboats be limited. He declared that George Barja Jr., whose home is along the Fox river, was justified in a recent protest against outboard motorboats.

Alderman Paul Laemmrich asked how an ordinance regulating speed of outboard motorboats could be enforced. City Attorney Edward C. McKenzie said that an ordinance passed in 1929 forbids operation of motorboats so as to cause excessive noise while the ordinance passed in 1933 also forbids noise and prescribes a maximum speed of 6 miles an hour on waters within the city limits.

Rules for Beach
The council adopted regulations governing operation of the municipal beach on motion of Raymond J. Keefe, First ward alderman. Harry Magalski, Second street, will act as caretaker at the park but the city will not pay him any wages. He will be in charge of the bath house and will be permitted to operate a concession stand.

Children under 16 years will be permitted to use the locker service free but adults will be charged 10 cents. No dressing will be permitted in cars, shrubbery, or outbuildings at the beach. A lifeguard is on duty at the beach daily from noon to 8 o'clock at night and park department employees have prepared the beach and grounds for swimming and picnics. If the water becomes green with algae or the state health department orders it, Magalski will close the beach. Tests of the water at all of the beaches will be taken next week.

The water and light department was authorized to install a water main on Warsaw street. The council agreed to purchase a strip of land 41 feet by 27 feet necessary for the opening of Manitowoc street onto Appleton road from Mrs. Henry Wendi for $75.

Curb and Gutter
The council authorized construction of curb and gutter on both sides of Manitowoc street and sidewalk on the west side by the WPA.

Mayor W. H. Jensen said that he would not order the WPA to do the work as several other petitions were filed earlier. However, the work will take less than a day and the WPA crews then will start work in the Fifth ward.

William DeBruin, Fifth ward alderman, asked that a check be made of defective sidewalks in the city. Repair work probably will be done by city crews. City officials were invited to attend the baseball game between the All Stars of the Junior American Legion team Sunday afternoon at the Menasha baseball park by Milan Skrypczak, director of the league.

Assessors Working in Menasha's Fifth Ward

Menasha—Menasha assessors have started work in the Fifth ward. R. M. Hecker and H. C. Steidl, who were elected to the assessor posts last spring, have completed the personal property and real estate assessment in the Second, Third, and Fourth wards.

The First ward also must be completed before the board of review hearings which will be held in July or early August. The city may show a decline in assessed valuation because the old island mill has been torn down and some Wooden Ware property also has been taken by the county.

DR. KUEBLER SPEAKS TO ROTARIANS—Members of the Neenah, Menasha and Appleton Rotary clubs and their wives heard Dr. Clark G. Kuebler, right, member of the faculty of Northwestern university, speak on "Defense of the Citadel of Democracy" Thursday night at Riverview Country club. Seated are the Rev. W. L. Harms, left, new president of the Neenah Rotary club, and R. D. Molzow, retiring president. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Weakness Within Seen As Democracy's Peril

Neenah—More harm is being done to democracy and Christianity by people who profess both than by outsiders, Dr. Clark G. Kuebler, professor of Greek and Latin at Northwestern university said in an address on "Defense of the Citadel" Thursday night at Riverview Country club. His audience was composed of members of the Neenah, Menasha and Appleton Rotary clubs and their wives, gathered there for the annual dinner and installation of officers of the Neenah Rotary club.

Charging that Americans were becoming more and more disinterested in their government, that the leadership in the country was in business and the professions rather than in government and that the people were doing little to develop enthusiasm for democracy in the youth of the country, Dr. Kuebler said the people themselves were to blame if there seemed to be a decadence of liberalism.

He advised that Americans learn a lesson from the declining European democracies of today, as well as those of ancient Greece and Rome, all of which went to their ruin the same way through indifference and complacency.

"But vicarious learning is infrequent among modern men," he warned. "We always think we're different. Yet almost all of our culture is borrowed from Europe. We need not be smug. We're not vastly superior. Essentially Europeans are very much like you and me. If they've acted the way they did under the conditions and in the situation in which they found themselves, isn't it common horse sense that we may act the same way in the same situation?"

Want Some Control
The often heard explanation that people in some sections of the world don't want to have anything to say about their own destiny, Dr. Kuebler termed utter nonsense. As soon as anyone gets any enlightenment, he wants to have something to say about his own destiny, he explained. After a democracy has become established, however, even the enlightened and best citizens become more and more disinterested, the speaker continued.

"It's happening here as it's happened in other democracies. I know many otherwise good citizens who believe it's futile to vote, useless to write to representatives in Washington. If that's the way they feel they do not believe in democracy and they might as well go to Nazi Germany or Soviet Russia."

Danger of War
In ancient and medieval times as well as today the most deadly attack on the citadel of democracy has come in the wake of long and serious wars, Dr. Kuebler pointed out. War creates economic disturbance and political and social upheaval. The people get hysterical. They want something done in a hurry. Democracy is always a somewhat slow process of government and is therefore attacked. The people want to put the problem in the hands of a single person, the professor explained.

"I hope to heaven we can stay out of the war," he said. "But even if we do stay out the economic and political distortions that will come in its wake will be felt here."

Dr. Kuebler went on to criticize American parents who refused to discuss such serious topics as Christianity and democracy with their children. Blaming them for the communistic leanings of many college youths, he said that if young people did not find guidance in their own families, they would go elsewhere and very often to the wrong places.

"You don't have to worry about communistic professors if you're on your toes," he said. "But mothers and fathers don't have time any more for their children. When families are together today they are sitting around a strident radio, or a bridge table, or rushing somewhere. We give our young people an elaborate education but no moral or spiritual guidance."

France, England and the United States have done nothing, the speaker charged, to drum up the enthusiasm of youth for their traditional democracies.

Still An Infant
But that democracy is in the throes of old age that it is outmoded, Dr. Kuebler denied. It is still an infant, he said, an ideal that has not yet been attained.

"Nazi Germany," he said, "is a place where democracy is not exactly in flower, but in spite of the government, Christianity is much more alive in Germany today than it is here. No government can interfere with the spiritual life of its people."

Dr. Kuebler declared he was not concerned about the ultimate triumph of democracy and Christianity, of which he was certain, but only about their immediate future.

The speaker was introduced by R. D. Molzow, retiring president of the Neenah Rotary club. Before the lecture Mr. Molzow also introduced his successor the Rev. W. L. Harms, new president of the club as well as the incoming vice president, Henry Junz and E. F. Lampert, secretary and Henry Bracke, treasurer. Also introduced were R. M. Sorenson, biennial retiring president of the Menasha Rotary club and Morcan Wheeler, incoming president.

Dr. Kuebler was studying in Germany during the last years of the Weimar republic and said he heard many doctors, clergymen, professors and others whom he knew well say that government was not their sphere, "let George do it." Finally Adolf came along and did it, the speaker remarked.

"A lot of our best people think they have a right to all of the privileges of democracy but that they need shoulder none of its responsibilities," the lecturer went on. "We have lots of leadership in our country, but it's not in government. It's in business and the professions. The British empire has held together because it has always put its best brains and best men in government. Germany did just the opposite. Stresemann was the only leader who stood out in the German republic. All the others were weaklings."

He advised that Americans learn a lesson from the declining European democracies of today, as well as those of ancient Greece and Rome, all of which went to their ruin the same way through indifference and complacency.

"But vicarious learning is infrequent among modern men," he warned. "We always think we're different. Yet almost all of our culture is borrowed from Europe. We need not be smug. We're not vastly superior. Essentially Europeans are very much like you and me. If they've acted the way they did under the conditions and in the situation in which they found themselves, isn't it common horse sense that we may act the same way in the same situation?"

Guard Officers are Proud Of Company's High Ranking

Neenah — Captain Howard Whitman and Lieutenants Antoine Piquette and Clifford Ziegler of Company I, 127th Infantry, Wisconsin National Guard, are quite happy today, having received the final report on the recent annual inspection of the company.

The local guard unit was rated superior in the annual inspection in which Major Joseph V. Coughlin, inspecting officer, was the man.

In the final inspection report, the inspecting officer said, "The orderly, supply and locker rooms are models of excellent military housekeeping." The inspecting officer also reported that the NCO's superior and that Company I is an exceptionally well commanded unit.

Officers and guardsmen of the local company are completing preparations for the summer army maneuvers at Sparta Aug. 11 to 31. Captain Whitman today received instructions for preparation for the field maneuver from the Sixth corps area, Chicago.

The instructions included outlines of the various subjects the troops will follow from now until the maneuver.

The officers last night checked property. The local unit is charged with about $100,000 worth of government property, and it is the duty of the officers to account for this.

Lieutenant Ziegler, the company's recruiting officer, reported that two more men enlisted in the company last evening, boosting the company's enlistment to 77 men and three officers. The company's strength is 83 men and three officers. Four new men had enlisted the previous night.

The recruiting officers reported that there still are six vacancies in the Twin City unit, and enlistments will be accepted until the end of June. The company is attempting to complete its strength before the field maneuver.

Michigan Man Will Face Menasha Charge Of Breaking, Entering

Menasha — John Joseph Owens, 27, Manistowick, Mich., will be charged with breaking and entering in the night time when arraigned Saturday morning in municipal court at Oshkosh, according to Police Chief Alex Slomski.

Police reported that Owens was arrested about 8:30 last night at Third and DePere streets. The chief said that the man broke into the Yankee Paper and Specialty company, DePere street. He said a couple of small boys playing in back of the building saw the man break a window and enter the building. The boys went to a phone and called the police station, and when the officers arrived, the man saw them and ran out the back door of the building, Chief Slomski said.

Nearly 1,000 Persons Have Visited Neenah's Doty Cabin

Neenah — Nearly 1,000 persons from 10 different states have visited the Doty cabins during the first three weeks that the Grand Loggers has been open this summer, according to Harvey Leaman, attendant.

Besides Wisconsin, visitors from North Carolina, North Dakota, Illinois, Minnesota, California, Ohio, Colorado, Tennessee and Washington, D.C. have been conducted on tours of Neenah's historic landmark at Doty park.

Leaman reported that a gun, which was owned by the late Dr. Orrin Thompson, father of Stuart Thompson, Neenah, has been donated to the cabin's museum. The gun apparently belonged to Governor James Duane Doty, for the name Doty is carved on the stock of the gun, an old muzzle loader.

This addition, which recently was uncovered, refutes the statement on a placard below another gun at the cabin, which asserts that that gun, a muzzle loading pistol, was the only firearm owned by the governor.

A flag, which is said to be the flag of the first Menasha fire department, also has been donated to the museum by Mrs. James A. Tobin. John Schubert, Jr., was the first fire chief. The flag shows 38 stars.

Attendance at the cabins so far has been average. During the first week it was opened, more than 450 persons registered, while during the second week, attendance dropped to about 300 because of weather conditions, but so far this week, the attendance has been high.

Akron Remembers Days When Willie Was Employed There

Akron, Ohio — (P) — Folks in Akron, which was Wendell Willie's home town from 1919 to 1929, rummaged in their memories today for shreds of anecdote and reminiscence.

In factories, shops and offices men talked of little but Willie. Lawyers recalled his legal battles here. Teachers remembered his successful fight in 1924 against Ku Klux Klan domination of the school.

Akron was a mushrooming city where tire-builders wore silk shirts when Willie came here to take a $175-a-month job in the legal department of Firestone Tire and Rubber company. Hotels crowded, Willie spent his first night on a cot in a hotel corridor.

Active in the American Legion, Willie within his first year here attracted the attention of a law firm which represented the company. He joined the firm of Mather and Nesbitt, adjusted claims and collected overdue bills, and soon was defending damage suits.

His association with Ohio Edison started him up the ladder in the utilities field, and sent him to New York in 1929.

Homer Martin Is Now Dealer In Auto Parts

Detroit — (P) — Homer Martin former president of the A. F. of L.-United Automobile Workers union, has formed a partnership with John Gillespie, Detroit politician, to sell parts and materials to automobile manufacturers.

Martin said the firm was known as the Industrial Mercantile Co. He added that he was "enjoying business immensely" and was glad he had left the A. F. of L.

Gillespie frequently has had a part in settling labor disputes involving the Ford Motor Co. The A. F. of L.-C. I. O. on several occasions charged that Martin and Gillespie were trying to bring the U. S. A. under control of the Ford company before the union split into C. I. O. and A. F. of L. units in 1939.

Gannett Predicts Willie's Victory

Philadelphia — (P) — Victory in November for Wendell Willie was forecast today by one of his rivals for the Republican presidential nomination, Frank Gannett, New York publisher. In a statement he said:

"The Republican party in an unbroken convention has chosen its standard-bearer and this is the time when the whole country must rally behind him. The future of America will depend on the outcome of the election in November. I am confident Mr. Willie will wage a vigorous and successful fight."

LaFollette Gives Tribute to Hoan at Testimonial Dinner

Madison — (P) — Nearly 1,000 friends and admirers paid tribute to former Mayor Daniel W. Hoan of Milwaukee at a testimonial banquet last night.

Hoan, now a practicing lawyer, was presented with a complete 80-volume report of the U. S. supreme court.

Referring to Hoan's 24 years of service as mayor, U. S. Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Jr. (Progressive), told the gathering:

"Perhaps people have forgotten for the moment that they are enjoying the fruits of his tireless efforts, but as time goes on they will realize more and more his great service. I have met many mayors and all recognize Hoan as the outstanding statesman in the nation."

President Frank E. Baker of the Milwaukee State Teachers college asserted that "twenty-five years ago municipal government was a by-word for corruption and inefficiency. More than any other man, Hoan has led in erasing this blot."

Judge Who Presided At Pendergast Trial Addresses State Bar

Green Lake — (P) — Judge Albert L. Reeves of Kansas City, Mo., told the Wisconsin State Bar association last night that many of the dangers to democracy arise through the machinations of local politicians.

The speaker, who presided in the Tom Pendergast trial in Kansas City, reviewed steps leading to the indictment by a grand jury there of a number of officials and politicians.

Today's program included three sectional meetings in the morning; a golf tournament in the afternoon; and an evening by Carl A. Beardsley of Oakland, Calif., president of the American Bar association.

Nominations which have been submitted by the board of governors for Saturday's election include: William Doll, of Milwaukee, president; Lawrence Brody, of La Crosse, vice-president; and Gilson G. Glaser, of Madison, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Peter J. Nabbeffeld, 317 W. Lawrence street, left this morning for Menominee, Mich., to attend the funeral of John Gaunthier today.

Eagles Give Pledge Of Loyalty to U. S.

Merrill — (P) — A resolution pledging loyalty to the government and a willingness to sacrifice "life so that our children may inherit the blessings of freedom" was adopted unanimously yesterday by delegates to the state convention of the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

The resolution, introduced by Frank E. Hering, editor of the organization's magazine, read:

"Resolved: To the government of the state and to the president of the United States, we pledge, individually and as a fraternal group of numbers almost three-quarters of a million men and women, our loyalty to the constitutions of the state and nation. We pledge ourselves to the service of America. And with the full understanding of what this vow entails, we pledge our willingness to give the priceless gift that men call life so that our children may inherit the blessings of freedom."

Mediator Seeks To End Strike at Plywood Plant

Conferences are Held But Factory Shutdown Goes Into Second Week

New London—A mediator from the state labor relations board, Walter Kwapi, was in the city yesterday attempting to help striking workmen reach an agreement with American Plywood corporation. At the close of the day's conferences, no announcement was forthcoming, and thus a week of inactivity at the plant was closed. A week ago Thursday night members of the night crew went off the job and their successors failed to appear. Monday the union met and apparently gave its bargaining committee the power to negotiate for the union, as this committee, company officials and Mayor Lynn Springmire held a session Tuesday morning. Previously company officials had expressed a reluctance to appear at a meeting called by the mayor unless the bargaining committee had the power to negotiate without consulting the union's membership first.

Session Fruitless

The Tuesday morning meeting was fruitless, with no progress at all made toward a settlement. Kwapi was sent to New London by the state board. If he cannot bring about an agreement he will report the facts to the board, which after consideration of them has the power to decide terms on which the strike shall be ended.

Hoffman whiffed ten of the Berliners, the only hit against him coming with none out in the fourth. Shortell's homer accounted for the first New London run. Hoffman's homer scored himself and Felsner, who had survived on an error. In the ninth Shortell and Decker singled, both scoring on Poepeke's safety.

The Stars collected seven hits off the hurling of Meyer. Meyer struck out 5.

Over Half of Voters Say They Would Vote for Third Term

BY DR. GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute
Of Public Opinion

Princeton, N. J. — A nation-wide study completed early this week indicates substantial sentiment throughout the country for a Roosevelt third term up to the time the Republicans met in Philadelphia to pick their candidate. While the trend of third term sentiment has leveled off in recent weeks, nevertheless 57 per cent of all voters with a definite opinion on the issue said they would vote for Roosevelt if he runs again.

Third term sentiment rose sharply after the Nazi invasion of Holland, Belgium and France last month, then leveled off at the present figure. The trend follows:

President Roosevelt, runs for third term, would you vote for him?

Approximately one voter in every eight (13 per cent) expressed no opinion.

The sharp increase since April can probably be ascribed to the Administration's "foreign" policy, since other surveys show little change in public attitude on domestic policies.

Since the President's popularity rose sharply on a war basis, it may decline with equal sharpness if the crisis subsides or changes. The present situation does not necessarily mean any basic or permanent swing of sentiment toward the New Deal, and the fate of a Roosevelt third term, should he decide to run, is, extricably library on S. Main street. The Dixon house vacated by them was taken by Mr. and Mrs. William F. Boese and family.

bound up with the swift and changing events abroad.

The fewest third term supporters, the poll indicates, are to be found in the Great Lakes region and in the farming middle west. The voters of the South, traditionally Democratic, are willing to vote for a third term by a large majority. Although Roosevelt has for many years been overwhelmingly popular in the Rocky Mountain and Pacific Coast area in Institute surveys, that section is for a third term by only a relatively small margin.

The sectional vote follows:

For	3d Term	Against
Middle Atlantic ...	57%	43%
New England ...	52	48
East Central ...	53	47
West Central ...	73	27
South ...	85	15
Far West ...	45	55

This Sunday the Institute will report the popularity of various Democratic candidates in case Roosevelt does not run.

Fond du Lac—Behind the classy 8-hit elbowing of Roy Millimaki, the Appleton Papermakers accomplished a two-fold purpose here before 500 customers Thursday night. First they defeated the Fond du Lac Panthers 3 to 2, and second they handed Lefty Russell Greens—an Appleton lad—the loss. The Panthers scored all their runs on nine hits off Greens, who was removed for a pinch hitter in the seventh. Millimaki performed like a veteran as he went about the business of throttling the Panther's big guns. In the eighth inning, the Papers right-hander forced Manager Harry Rice to ground into a double play. Joe Monahan put Fond du Lac into a temporary lead in the second frame with a 400 foot homer over the centerfield fence, but Millimaki squelched a Panther rally in the ninth after McCarthy scored on Metz's single. He whiffed Pinch Hitter Newton and forced Opperman to ground out. Monahan struck out to start the inning.

A single by Malattia, a sacrifice by Ivy and a line hit to right by Millimaki scored the Papers' tying run in the fourth. In the fifth, Malattia doubled and scored on Hawk's single. The third run came in the sixth when Aronson singled to center, went to second on Malattia's safety and scampered across on a wild pitch.

The game was held up 10 minutes by rain in the third inning.

LA CROSSE AGAIN
Sheboygan—LaCrosse scored its thirteenth straight victory by defeating Sheboygan Indians Thursday night 4 to 1. The Blackhawks scored three runs in the fourth inning on a double by Hansch, single by Schroeder, double by James and single by Toback. Also in fourth, Hauser tripled and scored on Pizzi's single. In ninth, Mengelt was safe on Miller's error, Clark walked and Hansch singled sending Mengelt home.

Superior Blues Cop From Fargo-Moorhead

Minneapolis—(P)—A ninth inning run gave the Superior Blues a 3 to 2 victory over Fargo-Moorhead last night and kept them in the Northern league lead for which they are scrapping with Grand Forks.

The Grand Forks Chiefs also won, 10 to 7 over Wausau, to keep almost within touching distance of the leaders. A six-run eighth inning pulled the Chiefs out of the hole after Wausau had taken the lead with a four-run attack in the first inning.

Duluth evened its two-game series with Crookston by taking a 7-3 win. Eau Claire's game at Winnipeg was postponed because of rain.

Milwaukee—(P)—The Milwaukee Brewers showed scant respect for the Cleveland Indians last night, walloping the American league leaders 6 to 3 in an exhibition game, 2,457 fans.

The Brewers, tied for third place in the American association batted two of their tallies across the plate. Mike Maynick let a pair of runs home on wild pitches, and Bill Zuber balked and walked in two others.

Johnny Humphries, Cleveland's starting hurler, allowed only three hits and one run in the five innings he toiled. Paul Sullivan, who followed Frank Makosky to the mound for Milwaukee, yielded four safeties and one run in the final five innings and received credit for the victory.

Cubs Can't Pitch One Dean And Can't Hit the Other

Five hundred home towners from Harvey, Ill. will whoop it up for Lou Boudreau when the Cleveland Cry Babies play in Chicago Sunday. Big league scouts are writing their front offices rave letters about Eddie Waitkus, 19-year-old slugging first sacker of Tulsa in the Texas league. Of Western Open on Blue Mound Course

Milwaukee—(P)—Long-driving Babe Didrikson Zaharias, with a sparkling 72-card to her credit, loomed over the field of eight survivors in the women's western open golf tournament today as one of the chief threats to defending champion Helen Dettweiler's title.

The Los Angeles shotmaker entered the quarter-finals yesterday by touring the Blue Mound course three under women's par for an all-time Wisconsin record as she eliminated Mrs. J. A. Ochiltree of Indianapolis, 8 to 6.

Miss Dettweiler, Washington (D. C.) businesswoman golfer, stepped through her second round with a 2 and 1 conquest of Kathryn Pearson, Houston, Tex.

Mrs. Zaharias' next test is 17-year-old Georgia Tainter, of Fargo, N. Dak., who scored an upset 2 up win yesterday over Mrs. Hayes Dansingburg of St. Paul, six-times Minnesota champ. Miss Dettweiler is bracketed against Dorothy Foster, of Springfield, Ill.

Other round-of-eight matches today pit Mrs. Russell Mann of Milwaukee, Wisconsin state champion, against Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee, Mich., and Beatrice Barrett of Minneapolis against Janet Smith of Rockford, Ill.

With the tournament following Davis cup lines for the first time, the doubles melee comes tomorrow. Van Horn and Jack Kramer, who hold sixth doubles ranking, will swap shots with Mulloy and Hank Prusoff, the snappy eastern duo that scored two winter victories over Bobby Riggs and Elwood Cook, Wimbledon champions.

Parker Paired With Van Horn

East-West Tennis
Tournament Opens
With Feature Match

Sewickley, Pa.—(P)—A grass courts clash between Frankie Parker of New Jersey, the nation's No. 2 player, and Welby Van Horn of California opened the "Davis cup edition" of the 51-year-old east-west tennis championship here today.

The intersectional tournament, which gave birth to the Davis cup matches, jumped into the spotlight this season as substitute for the latter, cancelled now as in 1915-18 when international rivalry goes in more for rifles than raquets.

The second singles match, also scheduled today on the turf of Allegheny Country club courts, put Gardner Mulloy, "dark horse" singles selection of the east, against Frank Kovacs, six-foot three-inch California titlist.

The lineup is just for the remaining singles title Sunday, the slightly-favored Parker meeting unranked Kovacs and Mulloy mixing it up with Van Horn.

With the tournament following Davis cup lines for the first time, the doubles melee comes tomorrow. Van Horn and Jack Kramer, who hold sixth doubles ranking, will swap shots with Mulloy and Hank Prusoff, the snappy eastern duo that scored two winter victories over Bobby Riggs and Elwood Cook, Wimbledon champions.

Otto Jaretz Cracks Weismuller's Mark But It Won't Stand

Chicago—(P)—Otto Jaretz of Chicago, present outdoor and indoor 100 meter champion, swam 100 yards free style in the world record breaking time of 49.8 seconds last night, but he never will see it on the record books.

He started out merely to lend his presence to one of the regular water carnivals conducted at the Towers club and only one timer was on hand. Three are necessary in applying for record recognition.

The record of 51 seconds was established by Johnny Weissmuller, July 28, and a Sunday doubleheader July 28.

Tickets on Sale
Chicago—Tickets are now on sale for the July 4 doubleheader at Comiskey park between the White Sox and the redhot St. Louis Browns. Mail orders also being accepted at Comiskey Park, Chicago, for the big New York Yankee series which will include a night game July 26 and a Sunday doubleheader July 28.

Newsom In Tenth Win

Tops Browns By 2-1; Cubs Are Defeated

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Big Buck "Showboat" Newsom of the Detroit Tigers, one of the poisonous personality kids of the thundering thirties in the major leagues, is a fellow who will tell you it's better to be lucky than good any time.

Newsom hasn't been beaten since the season's opening game with the St. Louis Browns and last night he checked off his tenth victory, a 2-1 tally against those same St. Louis Browns.

Old Showboat, who won 20 games in both 1938 and 1939 and probably will repeat easily enough this year, hasn't had any snap maintaining his present winning streak. That's why he knows that good breaks have helped a lot along the way.

In two of his victories he was knocked out of the box before Detroit won. In two other games he was betted out and Detroit lost without his being charged with the defeat. But the fates were never with him any more strongly than last night in St. Louis.

Scatters Seven Hits
Newsom pitched a capable game, scattering seven hits and striking out six. This performance was shaded, however, by Bob Harris and Bill Trotter, who held the powerful Tigers to exactly three hits.

The difference was simply that two of Detroit's hits were home runs by Charley Gehring and Hank Greenberg. That's how victories are born, sometimes at least. This one narrowed the gap on the idle Cleveland Indians to two games.

Another three-hitter last night was Hal Schumacher's performance against the Phillies to give the New York Giants a 7-0 shutout. His mates supported him with 15 safeties.

In the only other action in the major leagues yesterday the Brooklyn Dodgers edged out the Chicago Cubs 4-1 in a tight game in which each team got nine hits.

Trailing by a run going into the eighth, the Dodgers pushed the tying and winning scores on a fluke double by Dixie Walker, a walk, a double steal, a slashing single by Dolf Camilli and Joe Vosmik's fly to center.

Rally Saved Him
The rally saved Tex Carleton from absorbing his second loss of the year and gave the victory to Lefty Vito Tamulis, who relieved him in the course of a three-run Chicago rally in the eighth.

Carleton, who has completed only one of eight starts since his early season no-hitter, was started on his way to the bays by pinch-hitter Billy Rogell's home run over the scoreboard with Todd on base. When Tex walked the next man, pitcher Bill Lee, he was yanked.

Billy Herman's double to center off Tamulis then put the Cubs ahead, but their advantage lasted only until the Flatbushers could come to bat.

Lee was charged with the loss, his tenth of the season.

Pittsburgh's Kid Star Lets His Bat Do Talking

BY FRANKLIN BANKER
Pittsburgh —(AP)—Frankie Gustine, who says he is a descendant of Daniel Boone, is using a baseball bat—not a rifle—to bang his way to fame.

This mere lad, only 20 and in his fourth year of professional baseball, is hitting the ball at a .320 clip and doing a swell infielding job for the Pittsburgh Pirates in his first year of major league competition.

Frankie seems imbued with some of the spirit and determination of the great Kentucky fighter and woodsman. And his sparkling play is sweet balm to the Pirates' financial department—smoothing under the hurt of a $150,000 double flop in the persons of Pitcher John Gee and Catcher Ray Mueller.

They've both gone back to the minors and Gustine, picked up for a song on option from Gadsden of the Southeastern league, is one of the year's prize rookies.

You'd never guess it, though, from Frankie's behavior. Out to Make Good He's as quiet as a mouse. After a hard day's work he slips off to the movies or a game of pool. He shuns all bad habits and performs on the diamond with only one thought: "I'm going to make good."

It was an important decision that he made back in Parker High school, Chicago, four years ago. Adept at basketball as well as baseball, he was offered a four-year university scholarship. He chuckled that to sign with Paducah of the Kitty league as a third baseman. He's glad that he did.

Pilot Frankie Frisch put him on second base this year. And is Frisch pleased? "He's got a great future," says the Bucs' chief. "Why, he's playing the hitters better in his first year than I did in my third."

Bad Runner He's a good looker, with the kind of blue eyes and long eyelashes that girls go for. But Frankie has no time for girls, he says: "I'm just out to play ball."

line had to be told to eat more—steaks, beef, potatoes and vegetables. He lost 12 pounds during the first six weeks of the season. Like most ball players, he's gobbling up the biggest steaks he can find, now.

He's six feet tall, weighs 175. He's a good looker, with the kind of blue eyes and long eyelashes that girls go for. But Frankie has no time for girls, he says: "I'm just out to play ball."

Fast Track, Lots Of Talent Assured For A. A. U Meet

Fremo, Calif. —(AP)—Nearly 300 of the nation's track and field aces and a clay track rated one of the fastest in the country gave fans hope of a few national or world records in the two day national A.A.U. championships opening tonight.

The fifty-second running of the annual championships drew most of the men who were shut out of a chance at Olympic game record because of war.

Senior titles will be decided tomorrow. Many of the senior contestants also were entered in tonight's junior competition.

Billed as the "American Olympics of 1940," the meet will feature the 1,500-meter run and 100-meter dash. Glenn Cunningham, five times national winner at 1,500 meters, will try for his sixth crown. Blaine Rideout, one-half of the famous Texas twins combination, is defending champion. Other entrants with a good chance of walking off with the title include John Munsick, N.C.A.A. and Princeton mile champion; Gene Venzke, veteran miler and Walter Mehl of Wisconsin.

SUNDAY'S GAMES
Freedom at Appleton.
Nichols at Greenville Merchants.
Little Chute at Shiocton.
Greenville Grange at Black Creek.
Galesburg at Dale.

Little Chute—The final week of the first round of play in the Outagamie County league will find Black Creek and Little Chute, the teams with the best chance to win the title, in crucial games. The Creckers entertain the Greenville Grange while Little Chute goes to Shiocton and then plays Dale at Little Chute on July 4. Appleton also has a chance to tie for the honors. It has two games to play. Sunday's game at Black Creek will have John Miller on the mound for the Creckers with Le Capitaine receiving his slants. Bub Shaw will be available if Miller falters. Shaw relieved Miller last Sunday in the third and his mates came from behind to give him a 4-3 lead which he held until the fatal eighth when the Dutchmen scored three runs and capped a 6-4 decision.

Greenville Grange upset Dale last Sunday, 8 to 7, and is out to repeat again Sunday at Black Creek. Norm Schleitweiler again will toe the mound with Schuler receiving with Schuler, Kielman and Falk batting consistently, the opposing pitchers will be on the spot. President H. J. "Kelly" Weller is expected to be at the contest.

Freedom will trek to Appleton to meet Kioes and company, under the Adler Braus banner at Spencer street field. Appleton walloped Galesburg, 10 to 3 to stop the Gales winning streak last Sunday with Tommy Reider in great shape. Lefty Neuman outshone him in one respect with 12 strikeouts to 5. Reider again may start against Freedom with Bill Besch on the receiving end. The ancient Gene Kioes came out of his hibernation last Sunday long enough to collect two hits and now feels like a regular. Kirk and Werner shared hitting honors with three apiece.

Manager Shorty Plamann probably will show Garvey on the bill with Weyers or Schommer on the receiving end. The Sagoli tribe has been on a losing streak but may come back like it did against Little Chute in its only win of the season.

Little Chute will hit the highway to Shiocton to battle Johnson and company. The Shioes dropped another close game last Sunday to Nichols, 8 to 7, after being tied up at 7-7 until the eighth. Manager Vic Hartjes is taking no chances and means to start pounding away from the initial inning. Snook Van Dyke will go after his sixth straight victory with Dazz Van Thiel as his battery mate. Mike Miller will show on the hill for the Shioes with Lucht receiving.

Greenville Merchants will be home to Nichols and it will be a tossup as to the winner. Manager R. C. Trauba will have Le Huebner to pitch with Damrow receiving. The Merchants are starting a comeback and may be in the race yet.

The four Krull brothers collected eight of the fourteen hits last Sunday with Ralph showing three for four. Fisher will show on the hill for Nichols with J. Krull receiving. O. Bunkelman will be in reserve.

Galesburg will trek to Dale to battle Baldy Hawk and company. The Gales are tied with Dale in the win column and a battle is on tab with Lefty Neuman and Poppy locking horns. Nelson will be on the receiving end of Neuman's slants while Cornell will be behind the plate for Dale. Porter and Kaping showed three hits apiece for Galesburg last Sunday while E. McHugh led Dale with 3.

SATURDAY'S GAME
Neenah at Manitowoc (3 p. m.).

Kimberly — Kimberly will engage Oshkosh in a Fox River Valley league game tonight that was postponed because of rain.

Kimberly will send Artie Hofkins on the mound to oppose the Oshkosh club. In his only start of the season, Hofkins lost an 11-inning battle against Kaukauna.

Buck Le May will catch, Sven Bowman will be at first, Horn at short, Vander Heiden at third. Manager Sonny Wildenberg may hold second or exchange with Le May. Urbie Wildenberg, Coates, Kobs, or Lefty Wildenberg will cavort in the outfield.

Oshkosh is playing four games during the week and possibly five. The team's protested game with Kaukauna was thrown out by league directors because the Mel-low Brews used Lefty Petcka, a member of the Clintonville Truckers of the Northern State League. The game may be scheduled for Sunday night.

Kaukauna has been voted two additional players by the league, but the action must be approved by George Vander Loop, league president, before July 6.

Slip Is Exception Proving Mack's Judgment of Players

Philadelphia.—It takes something like the ascension of Lou Finney with the Boston Red Sox to show, by contrast, how Connie Mack was so nearly often right in his judgment of baseball players.

Since breaking up his great team of the early thirties, Connie has inspected players by the busload. College boys left the campus with a diploma in one hand and a ticket for Philadelphia in the other.

The miracle of it is that so few, like Finney, ever reached stardom with another club after Connie once let them go. Maybe Connie just got tired of seeing Finney around.

Lou tried out with the A's in 1931 but didn't get a place on the Athletic roster until '38. In four years his best batting mark was .302 and he never could win a regular job.

Excepting the players Connie sold on a star basis and at star considerations, you can count on one hand those still in the majors he might like to have back.

After the 1932 A's dropped to second, Mack sold Al Simmons, Jimmy Dykes and Mule Haas. A year later he sold Lefty Grove, George Earnshaw, Mickey Cochrane and Max Bishop. Two years later away went Jimmy Foxx, Roger Cramer, Eric McNair and John Marcum. Since then he has sold two players with fancy price tags, Frank Higgins from the 1936 roster, and Bill Werber from 1938.

And who does that leave, of all the players he has looked over or used for a time and then released? Just these:

Joe Bowman, class of '32, now with Pittsburgh; Alton Benton, '35, Detroit; Carl Doyle, '36, Cardinals; Bill Dietrich, '36, Chicago White Sox; Russ Peters, '38, Cleveland; Edgar Smith, '39, White Sox; Lynn Nelson, '39, Detroit, and Finney.

Standouts of that group are Finney, Smith and Benton. One more should be added. Connie bought Rip Radcliff from St. Paul for 1934 delivery, but cooled off on the outfielder and sent him to Louisville without using him. The White Sox salvaged Rip and the Browns later obtained him. He's a heavy hitter now.

About the only other time Connie missed in the last decade was on Jimmie DeShong, who had a brief fling in '32. Jimmie returned in '33 to pitch some good ball for the Yankees and had a big season with Washington in '36. He is in the minors now.

The books still remain to be closed on Bill Nicholson, class of '36, something of an in-and-outer now with the Cubs, and Floyd Yount, '37, an outfielder Pittsburgh has out for another year of seasoning.

Pirates Defeat Sox, 6-2, in Kimberly Loop

Kimberly.—The senior baseball league and junior softball swung back in full action at the playground this week after some rainy weather. Wednesday the Pirates defeated the White Sox 6 to 2 at the ball park. A game between the Yanks and the Cubs will be played at a later date.

The winning Pirates gathered two runs in the third frame, one in the fourth and three in the fifth. C. Lemmers scored twice on a single and on a walk while E. Poppe hit two singles and scored once. C. Gaffney brought in a run on a double as did A. Van Himbergen. R. Dufrene singled twice and scored once.

For the White Sox, V. Vanden Boogaard had a perfect day at bat, getting three singles in three times until he netted him the two runs. McCone got a single, B. Van Hammond a double and D. Stuyvenberg a single.

In two softball games Tuesday, the Yanks defeated the Giants 5 to 3 and the White Sox won over the Cubs 4 to 3. The winning Yanks got five hits of which three were singles by J. Vanden Boogaard, J. Lang, and R. Valentine. E. Wachendonk got a double and C. Schnease a single.

For the Giants only three hits were scored. F. Gaffney got two doubles which gave him two runs while J. Van Camp singled.

In the White Sox-Cub game the winners had J. Van De Walle, C. Treichel and R. Maas score on singles while A. Leuknecht came in with a run after getting a walk. The Cubs had P. Valentine score twice on a single and a walk while J. Lynch scored on a single.

Dark Horses Lead College Netters

Haverford, Pa.—The national intercollegiate tennis championships entered the quarter-final round at the Merion cricket club today with a pair of "dark horses" vying for the limelight with the six remaining seeded entries.

Top-ranked Don McNeill, national clay court titleholder from Kenyon college, face one of the "outsiders." Bill Reedy, of southern California, Frank Guernsey, the defending champion from Rice Institute, was pitted against the other—Bill Canning, of California.

In the remaining matches second-seeded Joe Hunt, of Navy, was matched with Leadore Belis, of Pennsylvania, while Ted Schroeder, of Southern California, met Bill Talbert, of Cincinnati.

Canning and Reedy provided upsets when Canning eliminated his California teammate, the fifth seeded Bob Peacock, while Reedy beat Seymour Greenberg, of Northwestern, who had previously shown signs of going places.

Three Eye League Race Becomes Close Affair

By The Associated Press
Clinton, Springfield and Cedar Rapids were bunched within five percentage points of each other today in the race for the Three Eye league pennant.

Clinton, which took over the lead the night before, was idle last night, its game with Moline being planned at a later date. However, Springfield and Cedar Rapids both won, the former creeping within three points of the leader and Cedar Rapids within five.

Springfield turned back Waterloo 10 to 1 while Cedar Rapids whipped Decatur 8 to 3 despite Connie homers by Wright and Clay. Evansville defeated Madison in the other game, 7 to 2.

Reports Show Milk Quality Is Improved

Program Begun in Outagamie County Spreading Rapidly

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison.—First test reports show that the quality milk promotion program instituted in Brown and Outagamie counties several months ago has already appreciably improved the quality of the milk produced in that area, according to state department of agriculture officials.

The quality program was begun early last spring in Outagamie county, as an experimental project. It was expanded to Brown county on the petition of dairy producers and milk plants there, and has since that time extended to five other counties, including Oconto in northeastern Wisconsin. It will ultimately be expanded to include the entire dairy producing territory of the state. The Manitowoc county project will be begun next week, according to L. G. Kuehnig, head of the dairy division of the department.

Easily Corrected
"We are working on the conviction that at least 90 per cent of the dairy farmers can and are willing to produce high quality milk. If they are not doing so, it in all likelihood is because of little things which are easily corrected," said Kuenning.

The state official said he was enthusiastic about the reception given the program by both farmers and cheesemakers in the two Fox river valley counties.

One of the outstanding cheesemakers in that area, he pointed out, is so eager to push the program that he is personally aiding his farmer patrons in improving production methods which will improve the grade of their tests.

"This is a sales program," Kuenning emphasized, and it "is purely voluntary. Our men are not policemen, but salesmen, salesmen for quality, and I am sure we are making progress."

Neenah Man Named To Reserve Corps

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau
Washington.—The war department has announced that both Richard Henry Ber of Neenah and Norman William Staalson of Manitowoc have accepted appointments in the officers' reserve corps.

Ber has become second lieutenant in the quartermaster corps reserve while Staalson has been appointed second lieutenant in the chemical warfare service reserve.

The club has listed all forms of recreation in which Appleton young people may participate and received the assistance of 40 non-members in the survey.

The names of the various activities are listed down the left side of the pages of the pamphlets, with their location, time, and approximate cost stated in adjoining columns.

The WORLD OF STAMPS

Foreign stamps may come and foreign stamps may go but France will keep something of a record because of her large number of issues during this war.

Among several hundred recent French stamps are four sold at a surtax to aid war sufferers. These semi-postals are a one franc .50 plus 50c purple showing a picture of Marshal Ferdinand Foch; a brown 80c plus 45c showing Marshal Joseph Jacques Joffre (see inset) looking toward the Marne battlefield; a blue 2Fr. 50 plus 50c showing a peasant woman behind oxen (inset) ploughing in a field, and one which is the most interesting of the lot because of an error. It is a 1Fr. 50 plus 50c and names the hero of the first Battle of Paris as General Gallieni instead of Marshal Gallieni—said to be the result of copying a medal to get the design.

Child Welfare Issue

Collectors of child welfare stamps ought to have a grand time these days. Yugoslavia's latest stamp with a surtax for protection of children is in two values, a 2-dinar plus 2d and a green 1d plus 1d (inset). The picture is of a child's head at the left of the stamp and includes children at play on a beach near children at play on a beach near a sailboat in the right background. Children in winter clothes were in the design of recent Yugoslavian stamps also.

Honor Pan-American Union
El Salvador's new air service stamps are commemoratives of the founding of the Pan-American Union. One is a 30 centavos light blue and brown, the other an 80 centavos carmine and black (inset). The design is identical including a winged feminine figure below the date 1890. The figure has a cornucopia in one hand and a garland in the other. She is in the act of placing the garland on a globe turned to show North and South America. A plane is pictured at the right of the globe beneath the date 1940.

Commemoratives

A beautiful set of eight stamps commemorating the founding of Southern Rhodesia has arrived. The issue of the self-governing British colony includes the dates 1890-1940 on the stamps which depict emblems or scenes of historical significance. Pictures of Cecil John Rhodes, the colony's founder, are on one; a statue of the first premier, Sir Charles Coghlan, is on another, and pictures of Lobengula Kraal and King George VI are on a single stamp.

Funeral Services are Held for A. E. Kuehn

Chilton.—Funeral services were held at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning at Holy Trinity church, Jericho for Anton E. Kuehn, 68, who died at his home in the town of Brothertown, Thursday evening. He had been in poor health for two years but was taken seriously ill three weeks ago.

He was born in Austria Jan. 11, 1872 and at the age of nine years came to America and lived for the remainder of his life on a farm in Brothertown. He was married Nov. 24, 1903, to Miss Mary Hoerl.

Survivors are the widow; four daughters, Mrs. Ervin Greul, Jericho; Mrs. Aloysius Leitner, Brothertown; Mrs. Frank Widhammer, Pewaukee, and Mrs. Adolph Wuester, Milwaukee, and one son, Ervin at home; and nine grandchildren.

Burial was made in Holy Trinity cemetery, Jericho. The Rev. F. C. Heilmann conducted the services. Six nephews were pallbearers.

AGAINST REPUBLIC

Hitler's rise to power was brought about largely by a burning idea. He believed Germany could win the leading place in the world, and he kept this belief in the dark years after 1918.

Millions of German soldiers went back to their homes. Some took up their old work again, but others found it hard to make their way. The hunger of wartime was not ended at once. In fact the suffering grew worse in some places.

Kaiser Wilhelm II had fled to Holland. The empire fell, and the German republic took its place. It seemed that slowly, step by step, Germany might work herself

Hitler talked to little groups in secret places. out of the horror and sadness of war. Years passed, and the republic lived through those years. Help came from abroad, help in the form of food, and loans of money.

Yet there were some men who did not want the republic to succeed in a peaceful way. They felt that Germany must take revenge against the nations she had fought.

Among such men was one who signed his name "A. Hitler." Perhaps no other was quite so bitter, or quite so filled with the plan to "rise up" some day and crush the foreign foe.

At first Hitler worked with little money, but he had his burning idea, and he found that people would stop to listen when hot words flowed from his tongue. He talked to little groups in secret places, and won several followers.

Month followed month, and larger meetings were held in the city of Munich. Hitler joined what was called the "German Workers' party." Later this name was changed to the "National Socialist," or "Nazi," party. Hitler kept his hatred of the old Socialist party, but the Socialist name had grown so popular that he used it in naming his party.

Handbills were passed about Munich asking people to come to Hitler's meetings. About 2,050 persons came to listen to Hitler speak at a meeting on Sept. 28, 1922. The handbill which advertised this meeting said: "The whole world is ruled by a gang of Jewish stock exchange bandits. The international bankers decide the fate of the world."

Medical School Dean Scores State Medicine

Manitowoc—Dr. Eben J. Carey, dean of the Marquette university medical school, warned against state or socialized medicine in an address last night to the fifth district meeting of the state medical society.

"Medical and dental servants under state control will either be all slave or half slave and half free," he declared. "Regimentation places a brake on service and progress, inevitably stifles initiative and starts degeneration of human activities." Praising the present public health professions, Dr. Carey asserted that within a period of 150 years the life expectancy of man in the United States has been raised from 35 to 62 years.

In Battle Against Willkie, Mr. Big Should be Careful

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

Philadelphia—If I were handling the bucket in President Roosevelt's corner in this campaign, assuming that Mr. Roosevelt and Wendell Willkie are to be the nominees, I would lay off that propaganda about Willkie's home address and his business address in New York and his being an apostate Hoosier. I would be afraid that Willkie would tear my man's ears off in that kind of fighting.

Willkie's home address is 1010 Fifth avenue, which is just 264 numbers to the south of that humble friend of the people Fiorello H. La Guardia, who lives on the same street, and not more than a dime's worth of cab mileage from the Communist district represented by Representative Vito Marcantonio, who claims to be no Communist but constantly runs with them, and by coincidence of best voice and speaks as they would have him to do and speak. Willkie's home address is a lot closer to the poverty of Harlem than the town address of Mr. Roosevelt, and, moreover, he pays his own rent and bought his own kettles and blankets, whereas Mr. Roosevelt's home was given to him by his mother, completely furnished.

His business address is 20 Pine street, down in the financial district, and 20 Pine is the Chase National bank building. I can't make anything out of that but innuendo, meant to suggest that Willkie, somehow, was mixed up in the Chase National when Al Wiggin was running the bank.

But I wouldn't monkey around with innuendo if I were handling Mr. Roosevelt's bucket because once you start using that sort of material you invite the other fellow to do it, and I couldn't want to expose my man to innuendo. Not my man Mr. Big. Ordinarily a man accepting a job with a business firm, as Willkie did, doesn't ask his new boss who owns the building and, of course, the opportunity if he doesn't like the landlord's morals.

But, just as straight counter-punching, Willkie could point out that when President Roosevelt was practicing law back in the wickedest era of big business and all such as that, his office was at 120 Broadway, which is just as close to the stock exchange as 20 Pine. To make it hurt, Willkie might point out that my man was a partner, and to that extent his own boss rather than an employee in the law business, and settled at 120 Broadway for choice. He might even dig up the identity of the owner of 120 Broadway at that time on the off chance that that landlord was even worse than the Chase under Wiggin, for purposes of innuendo.

Wouldn't Get Fresh About Those Corporations

I wouldn't get fresh about the kind of corporations that Willkie has served as a lawyer and executive or his association with the cause of private capital and wealth, either. Because Willkie might recall some of the goofy company promotions with which my man was identified as a front man, his record as a lawyer—which certainly wasn't hot—and the fact that my man lived on inherited wealth and allowances from his mother until long after he was married. For extra zing Willkie might recall that the family interest included some coal lands in bloody Harlan county, Kentucky.

Those are dangerous topics to fool with in a scrap with a man of Willkie's type. I would realize that this is no Alf Landon but a terrific body-puncher who likes to stand on the flat of his feet, sink his head against your wishbone and belt away until something breaks.

I certainly wouldn't go cracking about his Hoosierism. In the first place, those Hoosiers never do get in-Hoosiered, or de-Hoosiered, or whatever you would say. That is one thing I don't like about them. They come down to New York and make a lot of dough, but they never get really naturalized, and whenever they get a little bit tight you hear them howling about the moonlight bright tonight along the Wabash.

That Hoosier Business Wouldn't Help Either

Like some foreign immigrants they are always dropping their Hoosier cousins and fraternity brothers into New York jobs and sending their kids back to Indiana to college for fear that they will grow attached to the section in which they were born and where their parents found opportunities.
